Dodd Seeks To Disqualify Probe Figure

Senator's Wife Due To Explain 3 Rugs Reported As 'Gifts'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd's lawyer asked today that Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, be disqualified in the Senate Ethics Committee's probe of misconduct charges against the Connecticut Democrat.

"It seems clear that Sen. Bennett is not unbiased and impartial and that he has made a prejudgment before hearing the most vital evidence—the testimony of Sen. Dodd himself," said John F. Sonnett, Dodd's lawyer.

Sonnett's surprise motion to disqualify Bennett, the vice chairman of the bipartisan committee, was made at the opening of the fourth—and climactic day—of public hearing.

Dodd and his wife, Grace, were expected to be the chief witnesses at today's hearing to answer charges that the senator had acted as an "errand boy" for Chicago public relations man Julius Klein, a registered agent for West German interests.

Chairman John Stennis, D—Miss., said the committee had no control over its members and added he was disposed just to lay the request on the table.

The committee was expected to ask Dodd where he got three Oriental rugs in his home.

It wants to find out from the petite Mrs. Dodd whether the rugs were gifts from public relations man Julius Klein, the controversial lobbyist for West German business firms.

Allegations against Dodd include charges by columnist Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson that Dodd received officials and clients.

Dodd's former office manager and personal bookkeeper, 30-year-old Michael O'Hare, testified Thursday he saw the Oriental rugs in the senator's home in Washington's Georgetown section, but didn't know who paid for them.

O'Hare, one of the group of former Dodd employees who turned office files over to Pearson and Anderson, said under usual circumstances he would have taken care of the bills if Dodd purchased the rugs.

U.S., France Study

Evacuation Of Troops

PARIS (AP) — The United States and France have begun low-level talks on technical aspects of the U.S. troop withdrawal and base evacuation, the U.S. Embassy announced today.

A spokesman said the talks had nothing to do with the political aspects of President Charles de Gaulle's demand that U.S. forces leave France.

Ohio To Mississippi

Raft Shoves Off On Lengthy Trip

BY ROBERT POPP

Recalling the fictional adventures of Huck Finn and Tom Sawyer, two teen-age Wickliffe Boy Scouts shoved off from the Broadway wharf here this morning to cruise the 2,700 miles to New Orleans aboard a 13-x-20-foot raft fashioned of oil drums and lumber.

Ken Kobylski, 15, and Dave Pintar, 13, said they expect to arrive at the mouth of the Mississippi River in late August, sell the raft and return to Wickliffe in time for the start of the new school term Sept. 7.

KEN IS THE son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kobylski and Dave the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pintar. Ken will enter 10th grade next term at Wickliffe Senior High School and Dave will be an eighth-grader at Wickliffe Junior High.

Ken is a member of Explorer Scout Post 289 and Dave is enrolled in Boy Scout Troop 289. Both units are sponsored by the Wickliffe American Legion Post.

Ken said Mark Twain's stories of boys who romped along the Mississippi in the early 1800's actually are not a prime force in the cruise and there is no direct connection between their Boy Scout work and the long river cruise.

"We're like fellows who climb mountains or sail across the Atlantic in small sail boats," he said, an allusion to the trip made last summer by Robert Manry, Cleveland newspaperman. "We're just doing it because we want to do it."

DAVE AND Ken, although unfamiliar with river navigation, said they were well aware that the trip down the Ohio to the Mississippi and then on to New Orleans will cover a total of 2,700 miles. It's 941 miles from East Liverpool to Cairo, Ill., where the Ohio joins the mighty Mississippi. And it's 1,759 miles more miles from Cairo to New Orleans.

The youths, along with two friends and two adult Boy Scout officials, brought the raft components here Sunday morning, assembled them on the wharf just below the Chester Bridge and then shoved off downstream today after sleeping on the raft overnight.

The raft is fashioned of six 55-gallon oil drums and welded together end-to-end along either side. The framework is comprised of 2-x-8-inch timbers which form an enclosure around the tops of the drums. More 2-x-8-timbers underneath the deck holds the two ranks of oil drums together. A center beam, made of more timbers spiked together runs down the midsection of the raft, parallel with the drums. The deck is comprised of more 2-x-8 timbers nailed at right angles to the drums.

Police Block Catholics In Polish Clash

Street Fights Erupt When 1,000 March On Red Party Base

By GENE KRAMER

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — About 1,000 hymn-singing Polish Catholics clashed with club-swinging police Sunday night in two attempts to march on Communist party headquarters in Warsaw.

At the height of the outbreak, helmeted police charged into a chanting crowd of youthful supporters of Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski, the Polish primate, and began swinging their truncheons. Newsmen saw at least two persons struck by clubs and reported several arrested.

The violence erupted 10 years to the month after the bloody 1956 riot of Polish workers in Poznan which set off a shock wave felt throughout the Communist world. The trouble in Poznan was a forerunner of the Hungarian revolution.

The Catholic hierarchy and Poland's Communist regime have been at odds for months over a proposal by Polish bishops for Polish-German reconciliation.

As a result of the controversy the government rejected a proposed visit to Poland by Pope Paul VI, barred Cardinal Wyszynski from traveling abroad and closed Polish borders to foreign pilgrims during the celebration this year of the millennium of Christianity in Poland.

On May 29 several hundred demonstrators tore down and burned a big government signboard in Gdansk — Danzig — after an ovation for the cardinal. Police broke up the crowd and arrested more than a dozen.

A confrontation between police and at least 1,000 Catholics nearly erupted in violence Friday night. Shouting demonstrators refused to let motorcycle police clear the street in front of the primate's palace and the policemen finally rode off.

Sunday night's demonstrations started after more than 50,000 Catholics jammed St. John's Cathedral and nearby streets for services including a week-long celebration of the millennium in Warsaw.

Hundreds of Communist party workers blocked street intersections to try to keep Catholic crowds from surging into the center of the city.

One group of more than 5,000 Catholics massed outside the palace of Cardinal Wyszynski. When traffic police attempted to clear the streets, demonstrators lashed out with their umbrellas.

In North Viet Nam, U.S. Navy bombers left a large fuel dump in raging flames which sent up billows of smoke visible from as far off as their carrier 150 miles away, an American spokesman reported.

The reinforcements of sky-troopers turned Operation Nathan Hale into a giant search-and-destroy sweep involving at least 6,000 U.S. combat troops. The prime target were the battered survivors of a stubborn North Vietnamese battalion hit repeatedly in eight days of fighting.

So far 395 Communists have been reported killed as the allied force, in small units, painstakingly went after the camouflaged North Vietnamese, making sporadic contact with them. Nineteen Reds were reported captured and 141 weapons were seized.

The new spearhead brought bulk of the U.S. 1st Cavalry Airborne Division into action with elements of the 101st Airborne Division, U.S. Marines and several South Vietnamese Battalions in the expanding Operation Nathan Hale and put the air cavalry's commander, Maj. Gen. John Norton, in overall charge.

estimated that relentless U.S. air and artillery fire may have cost the lives of 300 Communists, or about half the enemy force. U.S. 7th Fleet ships offshore joined in the barrage.

The air raid against the North Vietnamese oil installation left an inferno that glowed late into the night.

Twelve hours after the strike by twin-jet A6 Intruders from the carrier Constellation the strategic oil stores were still engulfed in flames, Navy recon was a fuel storage area 35 miles northeast of Vinh and 160 miles south of Hanoi.

U.S. military men said the raid—one of 68 missions against the Communist North Sunday—was a particularly successful blow at North Viet Nam's vital fuel reserves. These stores have been the target of intensified recent air attacks.

Immediately after letting loose their heavy bombardment, pilots of the low-level jets radioed they saw huge explosions accompanied by thick black smoke. One flier banked sharply to avoid a glowing orange fireball at 3,000.

"An entire hill erupted," another pilot said.

While the air blows were being dealt against the North, U.S. pilots killed an estimated 70 Communists, destroyed 460 buildings and hit 36 river sampans in South Viet Nam, a spokesman said.

On the ground, U.S. Marines naissant pilots said. The target and Vietnamese troops went after the remnants of a battalion of North Vietnamese regulars and hard-core guerrillas in tunnels and bunkers northwest of Hue. The Leathernecks counted 66 enemy bodies, took four North Vietnamese regulars prisoners and captured 37 weapons, a spokesman reported in Saigon.

Marine officers at the battle scene estimated the relentless

Crash Kills Resident Of Lisbon Area

Mrs. Hazel Girard Becomes County's 14th Traffic Victim

County's 1966 Traffic Toll

14 KILLED

This date in 1965—14 killed DRIVE WRECKLESSLY

An elderly Lisbon area woman was killed in a car-truck crash Saturday at the junction of Routes 517 and 164, raising Columbiana County's traffic toll to 14, the same number killed at this time in 1965.

Mrs. Hazel Girard, 72, of Lisbon R. D. 2 was killed in the collision that injured her daughter, Mrs. Arlene Homan, 51, of 126 N. Market St., Lisbon, and her granddaughter, Miss Joyce Homan, 19, also of 126 N. Market St.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the crash, timed Saturday at 6:45 p. m., involved a 1963 sedan operated by Miss Homan and a truck driven by Clement J. Wolfgang, 29, of Columbiana R. D. 2.

Officers said Wolfgang was headed east on Route 517 and Miss Homan west on Route 164. Miss Homan halted for a stop sign at the intersection and then pulled into the path of Wolfgang. Her car was rammed broadside.

She was treated at Salem City Hospital for lacerations of the left leg while Mrs. Homan was treated for a severe laceration of the forehead. Mrs. Girard was pronounced dead at the scene, officers said.

Wolfgang was not hurt. Mrs. Girard was born April 18, 1893, in Apple Creek, Ohio, a daughter of Charles and Fannie Viorol Segesman.

She was a member of the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church at Washingtonville, the Elizabeth Club of the church and the Pythian Sisters.

She leaves her husband, Fred F. Girard, at the home on Stokesberry Rd., south of Lisbon; a daughter, Mrs. Arlene Myrna Homan of Lisbon; two sons, Leroy M. Girard of Erie, Pa., and Kenneth F. Girard of Key West, Fla., and a brother, Clifford Segesman of Salem.

Services will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Woods & Son Funeral Home in Leetonia, where friends may call Tuesday afternoon and night.

The Rev. Paul J. Korntheuer of the Lutheran Church will officiate. Burial will be in Oakdale Cemetery, Leetonia.

Blind Guide Dog

Doberman Leads Sightless Master

DETROIT (AP) — Hesitancy at the end of the leash told Jack McAdams, 23, something was wrong.

It turned out, the blind was leading the blind. McAdams' dog, Dell, was guiding him through downtown Detroit streets on a rainy April day when he sensed indecision on the dog's part.

A veterinarian discovered that Dell, a 7-year-old Doberman Pinscher, was as blind as her master and had been leading him "on instinct and guts alone."

Dell had cataracts, a malady common to both humans and dogs. The lenses of her eyes were so fogged she barely could distinguish light from darkness.

Fortunately dogs have a second set of lenses, though an operation to remove the defective set costs $350. And no one could promise McAdams what the results of the operation would be.

McAdams had trained Dell since she was a puppy. He felt he just couldn't let her down. A short-wave radio operator, McAdams told other hams about his and Dell's plight. The operation money rolled in and there was transportation to take Dell to a clinic.

Two weeks ago Dr. William

Magrane of Mishawaka, Ind., removed Dell's clouded lenses. Thursday the stitches inside her eyelids were removed.

Dell had trouble shaking off effects of the anesthetic, because she is a canine diabetic. It was discovered three years ago the dog was a diabetic, but she takes her insulin quite obligingly.

"I shout, 'Here Dell, time for your shot,' and she comes trotting up," McAdams said. "My mother gives her the needle. We have never had any trouble."

But after the eye operation, "she lay there for hours, like she was dead," said Oneite Robinson, McAdams' mother and a nurse at Doctors Hospital, who made Dell her special patient through the dog's ordeal.

Mrs. Robinson says Dell is starting to look better. "Her coat is coming back and she is beginning to scamper around the house again."

McAdams knows Dell can see again, even without a veterinarian's assurance. He can feel a more confident tug on the leash. "Right after the vet took out her stitches, she placed her paw in my hand for a handshake. She must be able to see again. She put her paw in the right place."

County Department To Take Over

Merged Welfare Program To Get Under Way Friday

LISBON — The Columbiana County Welfare Department will administer all relief and welfare programs in the county beginning Friday.

The July 1 merger of welfare agencies approved last year by the Ohio legislature means the end of welfare departments in Salem, East Palestine, East Liverpool and Wellsville and the aid to the aged office in Lisbon.

Robert R. Bycroft, county welfare director, reports the consolidation is under way. Robert Stambaugh, aid to the aged subdivision manager, and his staff of eight moved Thursday from 236 E. Washington St. to the county welfare building at 117 E. Washington.

Records of the city relief agencies will be moved to the county building this week. None of the city employees—two at East Liverpool and one each at Wellsville, Salem and East Palestine — accepted county employment. They would have had to take a caseworker's examination.

Transfer of the city workers to the county department would have been mandatory if they held municipal civil service status as the result of a competitive examination.

Thirty-six employees will fill the 25 offices in the welfare building beginning Friday. The department has been at 117 E. Washington, the former O. S. Hill motor showroom and garage, since June 1, 1964. County commissioners purchased the building this year as a county office building. The garage workshop section at present is used only to store buses of the retarded children's school.

Bycroft said the Welfare Department gives some type of service to better than 2,000 cases. Programs administered are general relief, aid to blind, aid for disabled, aid to dependent children, aid to dependent children of unemployed, all child welfare services including children's receiving home, crippled children's services, retarded children's school and sheltered workshop, the 190 children in foster homes, the surplus food program and, beginning Friday, aid to aged and city relief.

County commissioners will have to place $35,000 in a newly-created public assistance fund for the last half of 1966. The amount was set by the state.

The county is liable in the federal programs (everything but general relief) for a maximum of 10 per cent of the non-federal share, Bycroft said. However, this percentage is adjusted by the number of low income families in the county and other factors in a state formula until, in Columbiana County's case, the percentage will be 5.84 for 1967. For example, if the government would pay 80 per cent, the state would pay 14.16 and the county the remainder or 5.84 per cent.

March Ends As Negroes Vow Power

Meredith Pledges 'White Supremacy' Will Rule No More

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The long and turbulent Mississippi march has ended with James H. Meredith — who started it as a "journey against fear" — saying the "governor and every other person is going to pay attention to the Negro."

"The system of white supremacy will reign no longer," Meredith told a heavily guarded rally behind the imposing State Capitol Building Sunday.

Some 16,000 persons, most of them Negroes, flowed through Jackson streets to jam into a portion of the Capitol grounds and adjacent areas.

The final leg of the march — from Tougaloo College on the outskirts of Jackson to the Capitol — and the rally were marked by a subdued atmosphere.

Meredith, 33-year-old Air Force veteran, led the procession with a number of national civil rights leaders, including Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Meredith drew the greatest response from the crowd, which couldn't hear half of what was said from the flatbed truck which served as a speaker's platform.

Meredith said his father, now dead, told him most white persons "are pretty decent. It's true that we got some mean white folks in Mississippi, but these people can be decent."

"There is only one thing that is holding them back. And that thing is the system of white supremacy."

"The purpose of the march that I started three weeks ago was to point up and to challenge that thing at the base of the system of white supremacy. That thing is fear — a fear that grips the Negro in America to his very bones, not only in Mississippi, but in every section of this country, because every inch of the country is controlled by the system of white supremacy."

Meredith recalled that he was shot on the second day of his march "but as you can see here, that didn't end a thing."

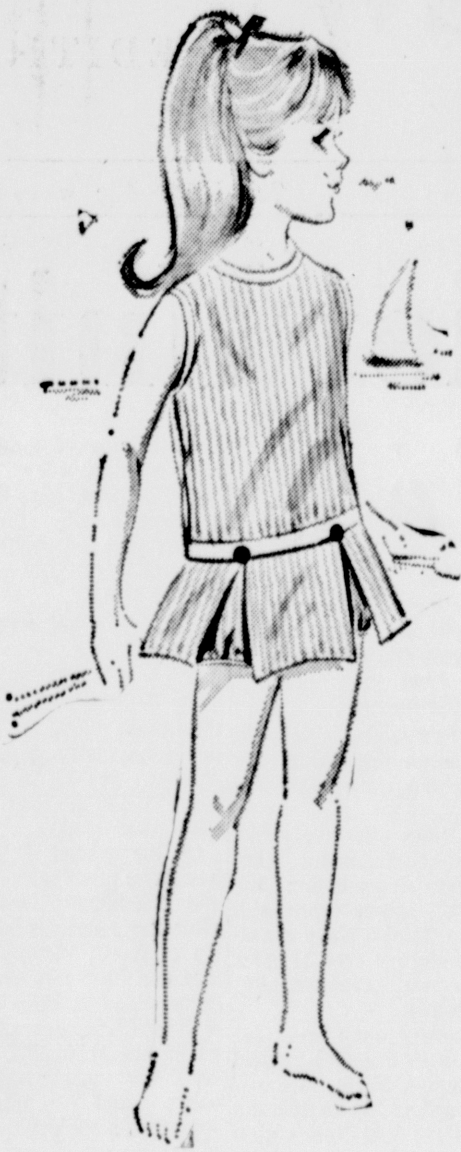

Meredith began the trek June 5 at Memphis, Tenn., 225 miles north of Jackson. He was wounded by a blast of birdshot from a shotgun the day after covering 27 miles. A white man, Aubrey Norvell, of Memphis, was charged with attempted murder and is free on a $25,000 bond in the case.

King and other national civil rights figures rushed in to take up the marathon mission, turning it into a Negro voter registration crusade.

Many Treated At Hospital In Weekend Emergencies

A man injured on a power mower, a child hurt on an air compressor and a youth injured in a motorcycle mishap were admitted to City Hospital over the weekend.

Robert Frey of 327 Louisiana Ave., Chester, was in "fairly good" condition today with a partial amputation of the right index finger suffered when he caught his hand in a mower Saturday.

Mary Crow, infant daughter of John Crow of Georgetown R. D. 1, was listed as "satisfactory" after she suffered partial amputation of her left great toe when she caught her foot in the belt of an air compressor Sunday morning.

Jack Raneri, son of James Raneri of Hanover, was admitted Sunday afternoon with lacerations of the face and right arm received when his motorcycle overturned near West Point after skidding in gravel. He was in "fairly good" condition today.

Twenty-two others were treated at the hospital over the weekend. Fourteen were treated Saturday. They were:

Frank Salsberry of 1135 Buckeye Ave., contusions of the arm while pushing a kiln car at the Sterling China Co.; Jill Myers of R. D. 2, laceration of the thumb on meat cutter at Billingsley Grocery.

Mrs. Lillian Bruye of Canton, dog bite of the finger; Mrs. Rhoda Jamison of Geraldine's Nursing Home, laceration of the forehead in a fall.

Rick Eckles of Cook St. and Don Shay of Armstrong Ln., hornet stings; Norman Mobley of Wellsville, sprain of the right foot when he slipped in a mine at the Dando Brick Co.

Prery Bailey of 213 Union St., dog bite of the lower right leg; Charles Sprouse Jr. of Dixonville, cut left upper arm on window glass.

Violet Norman of 705 1/2 Green Ln., contusions of the rib area in a fall; James Timmons, son of James Timmons of Boring Ln., laceration of the left heel on a bicycle wheel.

James Keys of 704 Oakland Ave., contusions of the wrist in a fall; Marjorie Deem, daughter of Thomas Deem of 1095 Hillcrest Rd., Wellsville, cut chin in a fall.

Earl Talbot of Newell, cuts of the right arm on a door glass at the Globe Brick Co.

Eight were treated Sunday and early today. They were:

Morris Shaffer of Fredericktown, an electrician for Heck's Amusements, possible fluorescent burns when struck by a falling light from a ferris wheel; Norman Eckert, son of Mrs. Marion Eckert of 954 St. George St., cut right hand on a can opener.

Michael Pinkerton, son of Flave Pinkerton of 716 Maple Alley, Wellsville, contusion of the head in a fall from a wall; Jerry Enochs, son of William Enochs of 2nd St., Newell, cut lip while swimming.

Randy Mackey of Ravenna, cut head while swimming; Mrs. Catherine Frontz of 1724 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, possible fracture of the right ankle when she slipped.

Don Hazlett of 536 Campground Rd., Wellsville, laceration of the head while swimming and Jerry Staley of 150 Fawcett St., puncture wound of the left foot when he stepped on a nail while loading a truck at Loblaw Market this morning.

Raft

sembles the floating docks which operators of small pleasure craft put in the water each summer to serve as mooring places for their boats.

ON THE deck, the boys erected two 5-x-7 foot tents to serve as sleeping space and protection for their supplies.

They said they will cook on a little canned heat stove, stopping frequently at river towns along the way to replace their supplies.

The raft is powered and steered by a 7 1/2-horsepower outboard motor. Dave and Ken said their trial runs show the motor will move the raft at a constant cruising speed of four miles an hour. It can hit bursts of speed ranging from 8 to 10 miles an hour when operated at full throttle. But the boys said they expect to maintain a 4-mile-an-hour cruising speed to avoid damage to the motor.

At precisely 11 a. m. today, the boys poled their raft away from the wharf, started up the outboard motor and swung the nose downstream in the direction of New Orleans.

Waving atop a 20-foot mast amidships was the state flag of Ohio. The craft, clinging close to the Ohio shore, was making a speed of three to four miles an hour.

When they shoved off, they were carrying a supply of gasoline in five-gallon "jerrycans." They said they will put in to shore every few days at a river dock to obtain more gasoline.

They expect to cruise from sunrise to near sunset every day, mooring the raft to shore each night.

Their supplies, in addition to food and clothing, included cans of bug repellent and bottles of sunburn lotion.

THE BOYS said their departure today was the culmination of a dream that began last January. Their parents gave reluctant permission for the trip a little later. By mid-April, with a dull help, they had started work on designing and building the raft. Most of the work was done in an open field in Wickliffe.

The boys said they are familiar with water safety and canoe handling, but conceded they must check on the seaworthiness of their raft as they move along downstream. They said they have done a lot of canoeing on rivers and lakes, but added the Ohio River was an unknown quantity.

As they helped assemble the raft, they saw a big riverboat pass just offshore with a long tow of sand and gravel. They said they were "amazed" at the size of the craft that move along the Ohio.

"But we are going to keep out of their way," Ken said. "We will cruise close to shore most of the time."

Ken and Dave said they expect to mail postcards and brief notes to their parents at intervals during their stops. And they said they also will send notes on their progress from time to time to their hometown newspaper, the Willoughby News-Herald.

The boys and their helpers left Wickliffe about 6 p. m. Saturday, but did not arrive here until 9 a. m. Sunday.

THE RAFT, disassembled, was towed behind a station wagon in a rented trailer. The travelers and their helpers unloaded the mass of material onto the brick pavement of the Broadway wharf and then went to work with hammers and spikes to put the craft together.

The boys worked intermittently for more than six hours in assembling the bulky craft. Sweat poured down their faces as they hammered spikes to hold the deck onto the raft's framework. The mercury stood at 94 degrees in downtown East Liverpool at 3 p. m. Sunday, when they were putting the finishing touches on the craft.

As one of the final jobs, they attached a high railing of 2-x-4's around the perimeter of the craft and then erected the two tents. They carried a supply of water in big plastic containers, with their gasoline stored in metal cans.

Warren Jagodnik and Lenny Cowles, friends of the two "navigators," made the trip to help in the assembly of the raft. Several friends and relatives also appeared along the shore to watch the task.

The boys were impressed by the width of the Ohio, which they never had seen at close range before. And they were disturbed by the small "rollers" that washed against the shore—kicked up by the dozens of pleasure craft zooming along the stream on the hot summer afternoon.

Ken and Dave said they both have high hopes of completing the long journey.

"But anything can happen; we may have to quit," Ken said. "We don't know how all the difficulties we may run into, but we're starting out with the intention of going all the way."

Both boys are thin and wiry and appear small for their age. They were wearing T-shirts and denim, along with nautical-style caps, as they shoved off from the wharf.

The raft still was not christened as it chugged off from shore and pointed its nose downstream. A bystander who had heard the boys' story said:

"I think they should call it 'Spirit of Mark Twain.'"

Gas Firm Launches Lisbon Bridge Project

LISBON — A crew from Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc., this morning began removing a gas line from the Pritchard Ave. Bridge to make way for a construction project.

Area residents said the crew was called to another job before getting the six-inch line off the west side of the span over Mill Site creek.

Sutton & Stewart of Bridgeport is to begin work this week replacing the old iron span. The new $20,657 bridge will be of steel beam construction with reinforced concrete deck. Columbiana County is paying all the costs.

HONG KONG (AP) — Rainstorms played havoc in some parts of Red China's Kwangtung Province and millions of people have been engaged in antiflood work, Radio Canton said Sunday night.

Enon Man Named As Commander

CLEVELAND (AP)—William Nelson of Enon is the new state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

He was elected Sunday as the VFW closed its 46th annual state convention here.

Mrs. Vivian Walters of Green Springs was named president of the ladies auxiliary.

The VFW voted to hold next year's convention in Cincinnati.

Other VFW officers include: Myron E. Young of Ellsworth, senior vice commander; James Allen of North Canton, junior vice commander; Atlee J. Reeb of Columbus, adjutant-quartermaster; John Ringhisen of Zanesville, judge advocate, and the Rev. Glen Howard of Xenia, chaplain.

Hearings Due June 30 For 2 Cited Motorists

Municipal Court hearings are scheduled June 30 for two motorists cited Sunday by the State Highway Patrol on charges of failure to stop within the assured clear distance.

Raphael B. Miller of Canton was cited at 5:15 a. m. on State Route 170, the patrol said. He posted a $17.50 appearance bond. James Griffith of Main St., Wellsville, was cited at 8:30 a. m. on State Route 7.

In another patrol case, Frank Skrinjar of Oak Grove Rd., Wellsville, was fined $25 and costs today when he pleaded "no contest" on a charge of driving at a speed excessive for existing road and weather conditions. He was cited June 7 on County Rd. 427.

the county pays up to 25 percent of the cost of the program, but this figure also is adjusted by several factors. The figure for Columbiana County is 14.60 percent.

The county auditor will pay all general relief recipients and all office and administration expenses from the new public assistance fund.

After July 1, all federal program checks will be mailed directly from Columbus. All medical bills under federal programs will be vouchered and paid from Columbus.

Bycroft said the county department is going to arrange for a place in each of the four cities and have a caseworker on duty once or twice a week. The schedule will be announced. He said he does not anticipate any lag in service during the transition or afterward. The added staff will be able to carry on the good work of the city agencies, he said.

County residents may call the Welfare Department for information. People on the Salem and East Liverpool exchanges can call the Courthouse toll free and the switchboard operator will transfer the call to the welfare building two blocks away. The free line from Salem is 332-1668 and from East Liverpool 385-2310. Other county residents can call the Welfare Department direct at Lisbon 424-7711 or through the Courthouse 424-7221.

Beginning To Get The Idea

Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor is the latest to sound the Johnson administration's keynote on taxation.

"Unless there is a drastic change," he says, "no tax proposal will be presented to this session of Congress."

The keynote now has been sounded so often that even the most obtuse patriot is beginning to get the idea.

The idea is to keep talking about the possibility of taxes in the hope of cooling off the over-enthusiasm of the boomers about a perpetual boom.

When their enthusiasm bubbles out of control, as it did some 40 years ago, the nation becomes boom-happy. There begins to be irresponsible talk about things going up forever and never coming down.

The idea of modern economic control is to repress the excesses of both the boomers and the gloomers. The hoped-for result is a reasonably straight line of action, instead of a see-saw of ups and downs.

The hard part of doing this is to find the precise balance between too much and too little. No one knows better than an economist that a static economy is never achieved; that economic activity always is on its way or its way down.

Thus, the reliance on "jawbone" boom repression — talk, talk, talk. It doesn't have any effect on hard-heads and relatively little on others. But it does keep the hard-heads and all others from forgetting entirely that the government is responsible by law for ironing out the peaks and valleys of economics and has authority to do things that could be considered drastic.

The idea has been deeply implanted by this time. The federal government does not want to raise taxes. But if the boom started booming out of control, it could and would — and don't any of you boomers out there in private enterprise forget it, you hear?

Fairly Depressing Thought

Appraisals of the moon pictures sent back by Surveyor, the 620-pound spacecraft that soft-landed on the lunar surface after a journey of 247,529 miles, have suggested a possibility hitherto neglected.

If the surface of the moon is like that of a hard beach anywhere on the earth, is it not possible that everything space explorers will find in the universe may be like something on earth?

Is it not possible, in other words, that the earth typifies what is to be found in the universe, just as human beings on one side of the mountain have turned out to be the same as the human beings on the other side of the mountain?

Or to state the proposition bluntly, is it not the arrogance of earth's inhabitants that has forced them to believe they are unique — unique and superior to all other life in the universe?

The possibility of universal sameness is not easy to consider. It stretches the seams of the imagination.

It only not allows for the possibility that other planets might be inhabited but for the possibility they might be inhabited by harassed creatures who go to luncheon clubs, buy autos on time, suffer from ulcers and high blood pressure and fight Communism on one side of their planets to keep it from getting a foothold on the other side of their planets.

It suggests the possibility of adult and juvenile delinquency hand in hand, narcotics, problems with written constitutions that get in the way of men guided by expediency and hassles over the letter and interpretation of creeds.

It even suggests the possibility the inhabitants of outer space, when found, will be squabbling over differences in skin color and bashing in each other's heads in the name of the same Holy Spirit that could never sanction such brutality even here on earth, where violence is a way of life.

Phenomenon In California

By Raymond Moley

The nomination of Robert A. Finch for lieutenant governor of California at this month's primary opens up a new use of which that office is capable. Finch won without serious opposition in the Republican party, while Ronald Reagan was chosen to oppose Gov. Edmund G. Brown in November.

The personal and political relations between Reagan and Finch are the best. In fact, the entire slate of statewide Republican candidates will run as a team. This is a new phenomenon in California.

Earl Warren and Goodwin Knight, lieutenant governor in Warren's time, were both Republicans, but there the identity stopped. In campaigning, Warren helped none of his fellow candidates. Knight won his nominations and elections by his own efforts and had only one aim in the third Warren term—to succeed to the governorship.

IN MOST AMERICAN STATES the lieutenant governor's office is essentially a sinecure. That official presides over the state Senate, performs minor ceremonial functions when the governor cannot or does not care to do it himself and fills in when the governor is out of the state or when the governor resigns, or is incapacitated or dies. He sits and waits.

In California the office of lieutenant governor is not wholly a sinecure. The incumbent is not only president of the state Senate, but is a member of office of a number of very important policy-determining bodies, including the board of regents of the state university, the boards of trustees of the many state colleges and the Governor's Council.

Very important in Finch's plans if he is elected will be his membership on the Coordinating Council on Urban Policy. This council was formed to grapple with the most serious problem confronting the state of California — the bursting of its cities, large and small, into seemingly unmanageable proportions. Here Finch's major interest lies, and here he can give new meaning to the office to which he aspires. As he says, this urban growth presents a set of social, economic and political problems never before faced in America or abroad.

SINCE THE EXPECTATION is that California's population will double again in the next 20 years, Finch points out that "We must build cities in size equal to one more Los Angeles, two San Franciscos, three San Diegos, five San Jose, seven Fresno, nine Bakersfields and 15 assorted Santa Annas and Torrancees."

I can supplement this amazing prediction by adding that among those who have studied the subject there is no unanimity as to the most useful and operational shape these cities should be encouraged to plan. Recently I attended a two-day conference at which experts presented their views about "What kind of cities do we want?" There were many responses and no answers.

Should we revive the dying central city and fill it with public buildings? Tighten up the sprawling suburbs and decentralize administrative control? Check or discourage by law and administrative arrangements the building of high-rise apartments?

How many open breathing spaces — parks, playgrounds? Above all, where is the money coming from to provide services for this population? Obviously it cannot all come from federal or state taxation. It must come mainly from private sources.

WISE DIRECTION toward the answering of such questions is a job which can more than fill the time of a lieutenant governor while the rest of the state officials are grappling with the day-to-day questions that face them. Finch proposes to apply himself to that job if he is elected.

Finch brings to his campaign the vigor of his relatively young age of 40, his experience in government and politics since 1948, his fine intelligence and his enjoyment of the goodwill of all elements in the Republican party, of a large part of the Democratic party and the rest of the thinking people of the state.

I have talked with many informed California people during my visits to the state recently and have heard nothing but praise and admiration for Finch from those of all ideological persuasions. They say that he is not bawling the losses of the past or indulging in vain hopes of restoration. Rather, he is summoning people to think more clearly about the practical problems of meeting the future with what we have and what we can create.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: Once more it's the good old summertime. Isn't it wonderful!

The grass that was doing so well in late April and May now is losing its growing gusto.

The flowers I thought would look like the illustrations in the seed catalog are looking like something thrown out the back door of a greenhouse.

The basement is damp, there are ants around the kitchen sink, the bedroom doesn't cool off until the middle of the night and poison ivy is taking over the place.

Minuscule bugs crawl right through the screen cloth. The roses are lousy with aphids, and I am having my annual ordeal with my wash cloth. Your aunt says it gets musty because I do not bring it out hard enough after I lose my head in the morning.

Why do I mention these things?

Because I lie all the rest of the year thinking about summer and how wonderful it is going to be when it finally comes.

But nothing is perfect, even summer.

That's the text of my sermon today—Nothing is Perfect.

Perfection, like beauty, exists in the mind of the beholder.

It is an ideal always, a fact never.

This is true of all things—whether government, people, entertainment, retribution, justice. There is no perfection.

We must settle for what we get, hoping it will be close to perfect but knowing it won't be.

Years ago, your Aunt Effie and I hung wallpaper in the dining room of the house we lived in. It was our first wallpapering project. It proved to be a nightmare because the room was out of line in every dimension and we were hanging wallpaper with a cabbage-rose design.

There was no way to cheat. We had to line up those blasted roses. They disappeared and reappeared at the ceiling line. The corners of the room weren't plumb. More trouble with the roses.

We were ashamed of the job. But when other people saw it, they thought it was perfect and said so. They didn't notice the places where the cabbage roses went astray. They admired the roses that looked fine.

They thought it was perfect.

And by George, it was, if you didn't look too close. That's perfection, boy.

Never look too close. So what if the bugs pester you and things get musty? What if poison ivy flourishes and ants thrive around the kitchen sink?

Curtain Going Up

Moscow Mission Ires Meany

By Victor Riesel

No one will deny that Victor George Reuther, the younger brother, has courage. He has fought the toughest. And now he is going to Moscow via Warsaw.

There will be searing criticism — from in and out the labor movement.

Reuther's swift intellectualism makes it certain he is aware that the cascading news coverage will make him one of the world's most famed travelers and will recall an earlier bicycling trip through the Soviets with brother Walter.

During some of Victor's rounds abroad Walter will be in Brussels but he will not journey to the East.

The junior (54-year-old) Reuther will leave July 6 as one of the leaders of a band of 37 voyagers gathered by the capital branch of the Americans For Democratic Action.

They have no mission to Moscow.

BUT VICTOR REUTHER has a mission of his own which will make this long hot summer for himself, his brother and the high command of American labor.

First, insiders see Victor's trip, coming so soon after the earthly battle between George Meany and Walter Reuther over foreign policy, as a long high flare signaling the launching of the Auto Union's offensive against the AFL-CIO's inflexible, anti-Soviet, anti-Peking foreign policy.

The not very subtle hint of all this can be seen in the statement issued June 16 by Walter Reuther in which he said:

"The leadership and the membership of the UAW, like many other Americans, are deeply disturbed about the growing negative character of AFL-CIO policy in the field of international affairs, of which the withdrawal of AFL-CIO delegates from the current International Labor Organization (ILO) conference is but the latest expression."

This is tough. This is blunt. This is open warfare.

The Auto Union constitutional convention, it should be noted, called for the recognition of Peking China and its admission to the United Nations.

THIS IS THE EQUIVALENT of asking George Meany to nominate Mao and Ho for president and vice president on a fusion ticket in '68.

Furthermore, the Reuthers want not only to "build bridges" to the Soviet bloc but to construct clover leaves off the highways of history to the labor organizations of the USSR and Eastern Europe.

Meany believes there are no such things as unions behind the Iron and Bamboo Curtains. He sees them as instruments of the state designed to discipline workers and set high-speed production norms. He's convinced they are under rigid control of the Communist Parties' central committees.

Victor Riesel

But Victor Reuther, head of the Auto Union's powerful and well-financed International Affairs Dept., could not care less what Meany thinks. Victor Reuther, as does his brother, wants to exchange labor delegations — immediately if not sooner. He believes in this international cooperation.

For months now the brothers Reuther have been trying to bring over a group of Soviet labor officials. The UAW had a Washington and Detroit itinerary all prepared. There were to be informal briefings and fraternal gatherings. The invitations had gone through the Citizen Exchange Corps, formerly Hostages For Peace.

AT THE PROVERBIAL last minute, the U.S. State Department refused to grant the necessary visas. The AFL-CIO leadership had opposed them.

The official State Department rejection of the visa requests paralleled the AFL-CIO's objection: The Russians were no tourists. They were actually a labor delegation. Granting the entry permits would equate Soviet and U.S. unions and give the mission from Moscow unjustified status in global labor circles just at a time when the Communist bloc was pushing for a popular front of all labor.

Meany also had killed off a proposal by John A. Gronouski, U.S. ambassador to Poland, to send some Polish-speaking unionists from his home state of Wisconsin to Poland.

Now Victor Reuther will see his old friend Gronouski in Warsaw. It's believed they will again plan to set up a labor exchange in the image of the cultural exchanges.

THERE IS NO DOUBT that Reuther will confer with the leaders of the USSR's All-Union Central Council of Trade Unions. There is no doubt in Washington circles that he will suggest exchanges between the Auto Union and the group of labor organizations which support the Reuther position.

There is no doubt that this will be the issue later this summer when the AFL-CIO's high command meets for a three-day discussion of American labor's foreign policy. Meany and the overwhelming bloc of U.S. labor chieftains will not retreat in their distaste for what they call totalitarian labor fronts set up by the Communist nations.

The Reuthers will then tell the Meany majority to jump into the Potomac — that is, if it's a polite session — and then proceed on their own with the bridge building.

The big question is, however, "Who will control the pontoon to the White House?"

Odd Facts

Zebras have at one time or another been broken to harness as a stunt or for show purposes, but they do not have the stamina or the temperament of good draft animals like the horse.

Of the some 3,000 islands of Indonesia, Java is the most populous and Sumatra is the largest.

Grin And Bear It

"... And as for our Viet Nam policy, I am behind it or ahead of it, depending on which direction it happens to be going at the moment!"

Interdependence

By David Lawrence

Wheat Shows Economic Ties

The interdependence of nations in an economic sense can help to reduce political friction in the world and prevent wars. A striking example of such interdependence has been given in an announcement from Ottawa that the Soviet Union has agreed to purchase from Canada 335 million bushels of wheat and flour, to be delivered in the next three years at a cost of $800 million.

This isn't the first time it has happened. In 1963 the Soviets bought from Canada 230 million bushels of wheat valued at $500 million, as well David Lawrence as several million bushels from the United States, Australia and other countries. In 1965 they also bought 187 million bushels of wheat from Canada.

Poor harvests have affected internal conditions in Russia. Bread is important to the Russian diet and the news of a crop disaster cannot be suppressed very readily. It now is evident that, even though the Soviets are trying to improve their agricultural production, they will still be dependent upon the outside world.

One wonders why the men in Moscow and in Peking do not perceive that the United States would be glad to open up all markets and even give some of our surplus wheat to their peoples, provided the Communist regimes once and for all stop their aggression and infiltration throughout the world.

IT SEEMS IRONIC that the Soviets should be repeatedly charging the United States with "aggression" in Viet Nam when the free world knows that primarily it's the Russian support by arms as well as technical advisers which keeps the North Vietnamese engaged in a war which they otherwise would lose.

The big issue before the world is not merely disarmament — important though this is to peace — but self-restraint by the Communist regimes which have felt that the sovereignty of every other nation in the world could be violated at will for ideological and other purposes.

It's regrettable that there is no worldwide crusade being carried on today to bring this kind of aggression into the open. It's only occasionally that even the American people are truly informed about what is going on.

THE STORY IS THE SAME in Latin America and on other continents. The Communists are spending billions of dollars among propaganda and subversive activities. Much of this money could better be used to buy wheat and flour for the Russian people.

The problem of preserving peace in the world has not changed fundamentally, even though nuclear weapons have been introduced. It's still a question of how to educate the peoples in the captive countries about the facts of international life. Inside the Soviet Union today there would be an uprising if the people really understood the dangers that lie ahead, including the possibility of nuclear war. Yet the Soviet government is not pursuing policies that will prevent war and enable it to concentrate on improving the economic lot of the Russian people.

The free world could, of course, deny economic help to the Russian people but this would mean starvation for millions. There is, on the other hand, a strong movement inside Congress to permit extended trade relations with the Soviet bloc in Eastern Europe. No serious objection is likely to be raised to this course if, at the same time, the United States government spent at least a billion dollars a year to carry messages of truth to the people behind the Iron Curtain.

Once the interdependence of nations is fully understood, peoples now under Communist leadership — including the people on the mainland of China, who also need wheat — undoubtedly would awaken to the fact that they alone have the supreme power to prevent war and maintain peace by cementing peaceful relations with other countries.

Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Mayor O. Earl Greenawalt and Service - Safety Director E. B. Laughlin contracted with an undertaking establishment here for the purchase of a combination ambulance and patrol at $250.

The Rev. A. H. O'Brien completed 13 years as pastor of the First Baptist Church here and moved to Kingsville, Ashtabula County.

A sub-machine gun, stolen from the office of Sheriff W. J. Barlow at the Courthouse in Lisbon, was found in Youngstown.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — The War Department announced that nearly 310,000 men and women gave their lives during World War II, including 84 who had registered with the East Liverpool Selective Service Board.

An auto stolen from Washington St. was found on U.S. Route 66 in Texas and another stolen from W. 5th St. was located on Route 30, three miles east of Laughlin's Corner.

TEN YEARS AGO — The Board of Health approved a plan making free Salk vaccine available to children 1 to 19 and pregnant women.

Four girls from the East Liverpool area were selected to participate in the first Senior Girl Scout Roundup at Pontiac, Mich. They were Sondra Horger, Carol Henderson, Jane Chandler and Doris Bourne.

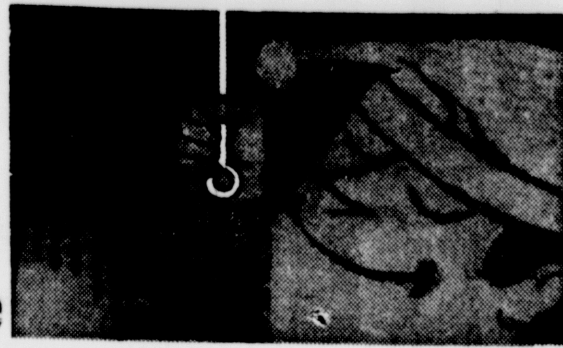

Miss Rea Nathaniel was installed as president of the Lady Elks.

'Outstanding Jaycees' Named

2 Honored At Wellsville

Ralph Fusco, left, congratulates his brother, Frank Fusco, center, as Jerry Russell looks on after Frank and Jerry were named the "outstanding Jaycees of the year" during the annual inaugural banquet and dance of the Wellsville Jaycees Saturday night at the SOI Lodge.

Frank Fusco was in charge of three major projects, including the Jaycee Day celebration and parade and the basketball tournament, while Russell conducted the Junior Miss pageant and headed the scholastic awards and "Speak Up" Jaycee committees.

Ralph Fusco was installed for his second term as president. Walter Henthorne received the presidential citation for the year for his overall work. He supervised the Jaycee Hall, conducted the Christmas parade, operated a cake stand and headed the float committee.

Guests included Dick Dioma of Alliance, national director; Glenn Adams of Lisbon, District 20 vice president; Charles Lang, East Liverpool Jaycee president, and Vincent Laneve, past president of the East Liverpool Jaycees.

Seventy attended. Miss Joyce Westlake sang and Shane and the Angles, a combo, played.

Russell was toastmaster. The meal was served by the SOI auxiliary. Henthorne and William Telzrow were co-chairmen.

Chester, Newell Firemen Answer 2 False Alarms

The Chester and Newell volunteer fire departments responded to two calls Sunday night, both of which proved to be false alarms.

The Chester department responded with two trucks about 7:45 when a caller, believed to be a male teen-ager, reported a fire at Chester Junior High School on 6th St.

About an hour previously in Newell, a person with a similar voice told firemen to "go to the Boy Scout reservation site near the Globe Brick Co."

Both departments have been plagued with false alarms recently, the Chester department receiving three such calls during the week of June 6.

A spokesman at Newell said a call was received from some young boys earlier last week, but that no equipment was sent when it was suspected that they were pranksters.

Knitting a pair of nylon stockings involves some two million separate operations on about three miles of filament. A human being would need two months to do the job but a machine can do it in three minutes.

Under Medicare Program

$50 Deductible Explained

This is the 12th in a series of articles by Robert V. Harris, social security district manager here, on how medicare will work when it begins in July. The information is based on "Your Medicare Handbook," the guide that will be issued to all medicare beneficiaries during June.

By ROBERT HARRIS

The medical insurance program will not pay anything toward the cost of the first $50 of your expenses for covered services in a calendar year.

This $50 deductible is like the deductibles in automobile insurance policies, which provide that the insurance company pays only the part of the repair bill that exceeds a certain amount.

In figuring when you meet the $50 deductible under the medical insurance program, you will count expenses for doctors' services, for other covered medical services and items and for home health services (but not those paid for under the hospital insurance plan).

IN ADDITION, if you have met the $20 deductible for outpatient diagnostic services under the hospital insurance plan, that $20 can count toward the $50 deductible under the medical insurance plan.

You cannot count toward the deductible expenses for things that are not covered by medical insurance. For example, you cannot count payments you make for drugs, inpatient hospital services, eyeglasses, false teeth, routine physical examinations, or services provided by practitioners such as chiropractors, naturopaths, chiropractors or podiatrists, optometrists, Christian Science practitioners. Generally, in figuring the $50 deductible, you will count only your expenses for covered services received between Jan. 1 and Dec. 31.

You cannot, of course, count any expenses for services received before the first month your medical insurance protection begins. For example, if you are already 65 or over, expenses you have before July 1, 1966, would not count, since the medical insurance program does not start until that date.

Dairy Title Won By Trumbull Girl

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Miss Regan Linn Davis, a Trumbull County farm girl, became Ohio's new "Dairy Princess" Saturday in ceremonies that followed competition of finalists from 51 Ohio counties.

She will reign over the state's dairy industry during the year ahead. Her selection came at a session at the Ft. Hayes Hotel under sponsorship of the American Dairy Association of Ohio. Miss Davis, who will enter Kent State University in September, has been active at Badger High School, where she was just graduated. She lives near Kinsman.

As the Ohio selection, she will take part in the National Dairy Princess Contest to be held in Chicago in June of 1967.

Other finalists who became members of her court were Ann Wolfer of Hillsboro, first runner-up; Sue Henschen of Botkins, second runner-up; Judy Bailey

UNDER A special provision of the law, you can sometimes count your expenses in the last three months of a year toward the $50 deductible for that year and for the next year, too. This happens when:

1—Your expenses for covered services in a year are $50 or less — in this case, the covered expenses you have in the last three months of the year can count toward the $50 deductible for the next year; or

2—Your expenses for covered services did not go over $50 until the last three months of the year — in this case, count the expenses you have in the last three months of the year toward the deductible for that year and toward the next year's $50 deductible.

of Barnesville, third runner-up, and Sara Fisher of Baltimore, fourth runner-up.

1,336 Chest X-Rays Taken Here In 2 Days

The Columbiana County Public Health League's Christmas Seal mobile unit took 1,336 chest X-rays here Thursday and Friday.

Headquarters of the tuberculosis association at Lisbon said 696 visited the bus Thursday and 640 Friday. The total compares with 1,374 for a three-day survey here last year.

The cruiser's next stop will be Thursday and Friday, July 21-22, at Wellsville.

Police Asked To Seek Missing Midland Boy

East Liverpool police were asked to seek a 14-year-old Midland boy who disappeared early today while visiting at an East End home.

He is Daniel Goddard, son of Mrs. Clara Pauline Cestarcic of 18 8th St., Midland, who left about 12:30 this morning while visiting at the home of a relative, Ethel Mae Ull of 400 Walters St., officers were told. Mrs. Cestarcic reported the disappearance at 2:47 this morning. The mother said the boy is 5 feet, 11 inches tall, weighs 115 and has brown hair and blue eyes. He was wearing a light-colored shirt, black trousers and white tennis shoes, she said.

Admiral Claimed

BETHESDA, Md. (AP)—Rear Adm. Frank A. Leamy, 66, superintendent of the U.S. Coast Guard Academy for three years before his retirement in 1960, died Friday of a heart attack. A native of Philadelphia, Leamy was graduated from the academy in 1924 and commissioned. He became a rear admiral in 1954.

Holiday Eyed By Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate ethics, civil rights and the draft occupy Congress this week — but it's a good bet congressmen will be thinking mostly about vacation as the week wears along.

Congressional leaders plan to stretch the July 4 holiday into a full week, resuming work July 11.

Major action this week will be in committee sessions on both sides of the Capitol with the Senate Ethics Committee continuing its hearings into the affairs of Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn.

The House Judiciary Committee expects to finish construction of a far-reaching new civil rights bill. The principal decision yet to be made is on a section concerning discrimination in housing.

The House Armed Services Committee continues hearings on the administration of the draft.

The House will consider the $58.61-billion defense appropriation bill, if technical preliminaries can be disposed of. Debate may start Tuesday.

The Senate has no major legislation scheduled.

Deadline Nears On West Virginia 1966 Auto Plates

CHARLESTON (AP)—If West Virginians haven't already ordered their new auto license, it's too late now to do it by mail and receive the new plate before the old ones expire at midnight next Thursday.

Motor Vehicles Commissioner James Kay Thomas said, however, that procrastinating motorists can still get their new plates before the deadline by coming to the department's license bureau here.

It will be open from 7 a. m. to 5 p. m. Monday and Tuesday and from 6 a. m. to 5 p. m. for the final rush Wednesday and Thursday.

Thomas said there would be no extension of the Thursday midnight cutoff on use of expiring 1965-66 plates.

Canadian Trip Ended By Wellsville Scouts

Seven members of Boy Scout Troop 22 of the Wellsville First Christian Church returned Friday from a week's camping trip to Algonquin Park in Ontario, Canada.

While there they made a 30-mile canoe trip in the Lawrence Lake. En route home, they visited Niagara Falls.

Making the trip were Allen Swearingen, Jim Cataldo, Brad McElroy, Dave Pelley, Dale Pritchard, Tim Pinkerton and Mark Moxley.

They were accompanied by Don Woods, scoutmaster, and Charles Pelley, committeeman.

Medical Pioneer Dies

NORWALK, Conn. (AP)—Dr. Julian M. Rogoff, 82, a pioneer in adrenal gland research, died Saturday. Dr. Rogoff was an originator of the modern treatment for Addison's Disease.

To get the correct waist measure for daughter's circular skirt, divide the waist measure by three. This will give the diameter of the circle to be cut in the material for the waist.

More Comfort Wearing FALSE TEETH

Here is a pleasant way to overcome loose plate discomfort. FASTEETH, an improved powder, sprinkled on upper and lower plates holds them firmer so that they feel more comfortable. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH today at drug counters everywhere.

Miss Cathy Cuffaro Weds In Wellsville Ceremonies

A gown of silk peau de soie and waterfall veil was worn by Miss Cathy Cuffaro when she became the bride of Dr. James J. Rubin the afternoon of June 18 in the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church at Wellsville.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cuffaro of 1304 Commerce St., Wellsville. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Ruth Rubin of Bellefontaine, and the late Joseph Rubin.

Fr. James Cavanaugh officiated for the double - ring ceremony before an altar background of pompons, gladioli, palms and ferns. Satin bows marked the family pews. Anthony DeCello, church organist, presented a half - hour recital of wedding music.

THE BRIDE was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. Her full-length gown was fashioned with an Empire bodice, long - pointed sleeves and a redingote effect enhancing the A-line style skirt. Alencon lace appliques adorned the bodice and the back of the detachable chapel train.

Her elbow - length veil of silk illusion fell from an open Alencon lace pillbox of pearls and iridescents. She carried an arrangement of roses and stephanotis tied with satin streamers. The familiar traditions were observed.

Miss Mary Kay Figaretti was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Mary Etta Cuffaro, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Judy Willoughby, the bridegroom's sister.

They appeared in full - length, blue linen sheath gowns, designed with three-quarter-length sleeves, trimmed with a ruffle. Headpieces formed of daisies completed their costumes. They carried arrangements of daisies.

Jack Knowlton of Pittsburgh served as best man. Ushers were Dr. Cole Willoughby of Columbus, James Underwood of Rochester, N. Y., and Nick Pittner of Columbus.

The mother of the bride chose a dress of poudre blue peau de soie with matching coat and beige accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore poudre

Marilyn Purinton Marries In Ceremonies At Church

The familiar traditions were observed by Miss Marilyn Purinton when she became the bride of Larry Sullivan the evening of June 18 at 7:30 o'clock in the LaCroft Church of the Nazarene.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Purinton Jr. of 7th Ave., LaCroft. The bridegroom, who resided with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Russell McCoud of Sherwood Ave., is the son of the late Mrs. Correne Booth and the late Aaron Sullivan of Chester.

THE REV. B. Edwin McDonauld officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar background of palms, ferns and candelabra. Satin bows marked the family pews.

Mrs. Hazel Silverthorn, grandmother of the bride, played a half-hour recital of organ music. Thurman Allen, great-uncle of the bride, sang "I Love You Truly," "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She wore a full-length gown of sate peau designed with a chapel train. The Empire-style bodice was fashioned with a scoop neckline, adorned with floral embroidery, and long-pointed sleeves. The front skirt was accented with a floral panel and the back, with a self-bow at the waistline.

Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion was held in place by a cabbage rose headpiece.

She carried a white Bible topped with an arrangement of white roses and satin streamers centered with a white orchid. Her white lace handkerchief was the gift of Mrs. Silverthorn.

Miss Sandy McCoud, niece of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She wore a full-length gown of blue crystallette fashioned with a white lace bodice, which had a scoop neckline, and bell-shaped skirt.

Miss Janet Gray appeared as bridesmaid in a pink dress identical to that of Miss McCoud. Miss Doty Purinton, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid and wore green.

THEY ALL had matching Dior headpieces with theater veils and carried Colonial bouquets of carnations, tinted to match their gowns, white roses and satin streamers.

Tracy Thorne, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and wore a short dress of yellow crystallette styled with a white lace bodice. She had a yellow bow in her hair and carried a basket of flower petals with a yellow corsage attached to the handle.

Richard Sullivan served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Don Purinton, brother of the bride, and Wayne McCoud, nephew of the bridegroom. Bruce McCoud, another nephew, was junior usher, and Gary Gibbs, cousin of the bride, ring-bearer.

The mother of the bride chose a poudre blue nylon knit sheath with white accessories and corsage of white carnations, tipped in blue. Mrs. McCoud, the bridegroom's sister, wore a blue jersey ensemble with white accessories and carnation corsage.

Grandmothers of the bride attending were Mrs. Wilbur Purinton, who wore a green print jersey dress, and Mrs. Silverthorn, who chose a two-piece dress of rose color lace. White accessories and carnation corsages complemented their attire.

A RECEPTION for 100 followed at the Ohio Valley Gas Service Center in Glenmoor. The buffet table, covered with a white linen cloth, was centered with a three-tier cake, topped with a miniature bridal couple. Two large hearts, decorated with wedding bells, a pillow holding wedding rings and anniversary candles completed the setting.

Aides were Mrs. Hazel Flara, Mrs. Verna Thorne, Mrs. Shirley Gibbs, aunts of the bride, and Mrs. Virginia McCoud, the bridegroom's sister.

Mrs. Vicki Walker registered guests from New Philadelphia, Wintersville, Salem, Lisbon and Chester.

For her honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and Canada, the bride wore a yellow jersey shift dress with white accessories and her bridal orchid.

The bride is a 1966 graduate of East Liverpool High School. Her husband attended Oak Glen High School and is employed at the Hall China Co.

The newlyweds will reside in a furnished apartment at 628 1/2 Dresden Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. McCoud entertained for the rehearsal party. Miss Gray was hostess for a miscellaneous shower held at her home on Lisbon St.

Band Radio Club Holds Meeting

More than 125 attended the meeting of Chapter 6 of the United Citizens Band Radio Association Sunday afternoon at Hammond Park in Wellsville, with plans completed for the summer picnic Aug. 28. Ray Manning, president, presided.

The club newspaper, "The Network," was distributed. An award for special services was presented to Homer Higgins.

A discussion on the REACT program (Radio Emergency Association of Communications Team) was featured and a committee was appointed.

The meeting was concluded with a wiener roast.

Drag Racer, 17, Dies In Ohio Track Mishap

CHARDON, Ohio (AP)—A 17-year-old youth was killed Sunday when his car rolled over him at the Thompson Drag Raceway at Thompson (Geauga County).

The victim was Roger D. Kolacki, of Novelty, who had won eight trophies this year for drag racing.

Police said Kolacki had pulled his car onto an embankment beside the drag strip and was working under it when it rolled across his neck. He had been racing before trouble developed in the car.

British Seamen May Seek Longer Vacation

LONDON (AP)—The leaders of Britain's striking seamen may make new demands for longer vacations when they open peace talks with the ship-owners Tuesday, informed sources report.

The sources said the seamen were encouraged because the International Transport Workers' Federation called Sunday on 340 affiliated unions in 84 countries to send money to aid the strikers.

The striking National Union of Seamen could get "tens of thousands of pounds," said the federation secretary, Hans Imhof.

The strike so far has cost the seamen's union $896,000, union leader William Hogarth disclosed Sunday. The seamen are drawing only $8.40 a week strike pay.

Newly-Renovated Pool Opens At Wellsville

This newly - renovated pool at Wellsville's 17th St. playground was opened officially this afternoon.

The old wading pool was repaired and converted into a sprinkling pool through the efforts of the Wellsville Playground Commission and Mayor William Daugherty.

The mayor said today the new hours at the playlot will be from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. daily, with the pool to be open from 2 to 5 p. m.

The playlot already is supervised and additional supervision will be provided for the pool.

The lot has been cleaned and painted and there is a program for the replacement of equipment when funds become available.

This is part of a three-point program for 17th St. — "to make it look like a playground, obtain new equipment and start organized activities."

A new fence has been erected and shelter - type picnic tables will be added for games and handcraft. Some work has been done on the basketball court.

Plans call for work at other lots as the program is expanded and funds become available.

U.S. air and artillery fire may have cost the lives of 300 Communists, or about half the enemy force. U.S. 7th Fleet ships offshore joined in the barrage.

Down the coast, eight U.S.

Army men were killed when two helicopters collided near Tuy Hoa, 230 miles northeast of Saigon, as the bulk of the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division went into action in Operation Nathan Hale against a tough North Vietnamese battalion.

Maj. Gen. John Norton, the cavalry commander, took over all command when his reinforcements joined elements of the 101st Airborne Division, Marines and several Vietnamese battalions in the expanding drive.

The new spearhead into the Trang Luong area north of Tuy Hoa took place during a visit Sunday by Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam. He traveled by light plane and helicopter in his first battlefield tour since his return from conferences in Hawaii Thursday.

The allied force painstakingly pursued the camouflaged North Vietnamese — about 600 men or more men — in small units, making sporadic contact with them. So far, 395 Communists have been reported killed in the eight-day-old operation.

U.S. Reds Elect Winston And Hall As Top Officers

NEW YORK (AP)—The Communist party of the U.S.A. has elected longtime party leader Gus Hall as general secretary and Henry Winston as national chairman at the close of its 18th national convention.

Hall, a member of the party for 39 years, said Sunday that the election was "by acclamation."

The election marked the first time in seven years that the party openly announced a national election. The party had gone underground to avoid federal prosecution for failure to register as Soviet-dominated.

Hall said the convention and party election represented a challenge to the "democratic process" to see that the party operates freely without political restrictions. He also said national membership was "up to 12,000."

Hall, 55, was elected general secretary at a convention in 1959, but had been described recently as the party's "leading spokesman."

Winston, 53, a Negro, was born in Hattiesburg, Miss. He said his election was "a symbol of real equality in the Communist party."

Jail Term Suspended For Dresden Motorist

Dale L. Rice of 942 Dresden Ave. was given a suspended 10-day term in County Jail when he pleaded guilty today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of operating a motor vehicle after his driver's license had been suspended.

Rice was cited at 4:59 a. m. Saturday at St. Clair Ave. and Broadway by Patrolmen Jack Strobel, police reported.

Rice told the judge his wife was visiting a relative in Midland when she telephoned him and asked him to move her car from a parking place on E. 6th St. He had driven only about a block when he was spotted by the officer, who knew the defendant's license was under suspension, Rice told the judge.

Donald Wolfe Honored As 'Lion Of The Year'

Donald Wolfe was named "Lion of the Year" during the annual installation banquet of the Lions Club Saturday night at the Travelers Hotel, when Ed Shingler was seated as president. He succeeds Edward Custer.

Ernest Lowe, the 1965 Lion of the Year, presented the award to Wolfe. Other awards were presented by the guest speaker.

Others installed are Charles Haugh, first vice president; Fred Kane, second vice president; Lloyd Gille, third vice president; Fred Yonz, secretary; Earl Locke, treasurer; Meryl McSwegin, lion tamer, and Richard Allison, tail twister.

Directors installed are Ralph Compa, Dr. John Fraser, Harold Howard, William Kozel, William Kyle and Richard Walker.

William R. Flemming of New Philadelphia, president of the Board of Directors of the Eye Research Foundation, was guest speaker and installing officer.

The welcome address and opening remarks were given by Custer, who also introduced the toastmaster, the Rev. E. C. Traylor, minister of the First Church of Christ. Shingler also spoke briefly.

Group singing was led by Wolfe and special music was presented by Mary Compa and Robins & Rowley.

Ralph Compa gave the invocation and the benediction.

James Sigler and Ed Gill headed the program committee and Mrs. Sigler and Mrs. Wolfe the decorating committee.

South Vietnamese View War As American Fight

By FRED S. Hoffman
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—A limited survey of popular attitudes in government-controlled areas of South Viet Nam indicates people there tend to regard the war as an American war, officials report.

U.S. experts who conducted the survey say there also is a tendency to rely chiefly on the Americans to bring back peace and find answers to South Viet Nam's economic and other problems.

There seems to be a downswing in popular confidence in the ability of the Saigon government to handle effectively the various problems facing South Viet Nam, the survey indicated.

The sampling of Vietnamese views was understood to have been small and was taken in connection with a study of trends in the morale of the Communist Viet Cong.

After interrogating some 200 people, mostly Viet Cong defectors and prisoners, U.S. analysts said they detected what seemed to be a growing feeling of hopelessness among some elements of the Viet Cong.

The analysts reported evidence that Viet Cong morale has become fragile. And they said there were signs that the combat effectiveness of some Communist units had declined.

In other weekend developments related to Viet Nam:

—Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield expressed hope in an interview that U.N. Secretary-General U Thant may be able to interest Soviet leaders in Viet Nam peace talks during his planned trip to Moscow.

—Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, appearing on the NBC television-Radio program "Meet the Press," denied that the United States has decided to bomb oil storage depots near the North Vietnamese cities of Hanoi and Haiphong.

But he refused to shut the door on this possibility in the future.

John A. Gronouski, U.S. Ambassador to Poland, in a copy-righted interview in U.S. News & World report, said his discussions with representatives of Red China have not produced great progress toward reducing tensions between the two countries.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said that although North Viet Nam probably will reject U Thant's proposals for mutual reduction of military action, the Hanoi regime is having "second thoughts about the prospects of succeeding in South Viet Nam."

And despite many contacts with Hanoi, Rusk said, no peace overtures have been made by the North Viet Nam government. He gave his views in a prerecorded radio-television broadcast with Rep. Frank Horton, R-N.Y.

In the limited survey, the interrogations of civilians and Viet Cong defectors and prisoners produced evidence that many had no clear understanding of U.S. objectives in Viet Nam or of the purpose of American forces there.

Even in government controlled areas, it was said, local South Vietnamese officials often appeared to be left on their own in developing explanations of the American role—explanations that sometimes are highly inaccurate.

The survey of popular attitudes, the experts said, indicated widespread approval of and growing confidence in an eventual defeat of the Communists.

The study indicated a growing split between the Viet Cong and the South Vietnamese population.

The study reported that villagers frequently left town when the Viet Cong arrived, preferring to live in fields or, in some cases, take refuge in government controlled areas.

'Black Power'

Negro Eyes Political Strength

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A chant echoes still from the Mississippi civil rights march, voicing clearly the Negro's disillusionment with past methods and his growing belief that political strength holds the key to his problems.

"Black power! Black power!" became the rallying cry suddenly after the march had been in progress for nearly two weeks.

This was the slogan that more than anything struck responsive chords. The eagerness with which the Negro masses seized upon the word disconcerted the more conservative leaders. It deepened the philosophical rift within the civil rights movement.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who got into the march against the advice of a key associate, found himself fighting for control against a militant faction that talked of power, violence and disorders.

King, in the end, maintained his dominant role among the leadership but recognized the changing mood of Negroes. He defended nonviolence in integration but quit talking about new federal legislation — apparently no one was interested.

The march, from all indications, stirred many Negroes to action. Hundreds flocked to voter registration offices; they joined in rallies and trudged doggedly down the pavement.

In contrast to the Alabama march of 1965, the Mississippi march touched the masses with a message of hope and self-respect.

The Alabama march had a single purpose — to get a federal voting rights law enacted.

While the Mississippi demonstration gave considerable emphasis to a proposed law now in Congress, its real significance lies in its triggering response among Negroes in Mississippi.

Today's Negroes are not concerned about legislation. They talk about bread on the table, money in their pockets, and Negro officeholders in the towns and counties.

The march emphasized deepening resentment of what is considered by some Negro leaders to be inaction by the federal government and particularly President Johnson in implementing the major civil rights laws enacted in the past two years.

The man who started the marathon march, James H. Meredith, said he had set out to help Negroes overcome their fears. Perhaps he did to some extent.

The march disclosed a new mood of belligerence among Negroes, a growing frustration over conditions and widespread rejection of nonviolence. Developments during the long, tortuous trek over miles of Mississippi highways and streets indicated that many Negroes have indeed lost their fears of reprisals for civil rights activities.

Negroes fought back when attacked by whites in Philadelphia, Miss. A Negro man had to be forcibly restrained during a dispute with state highway patrolmen in Belzoni.

Significantly, the developments confirmed a statement made two months ago by Stoke-ly Carmichael, national chairman of the radical Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee.

"Integration is irrelevant," he said. This attitude prevailed among Negroes interviewed along the march route.

It was Carmichael and other SNCC leaders who began talking of black power. But, while this was interpreted by some observers as black supremacy, many of the Negro leaders decided it meant merely political power.

That the march reached the rural Negroes was plainly evident by the way in which food and shelter were cheerfully provided all along the route by local Negroes.

The march revealed, too, that funds do not pour in as a result of marches and dramatic or violent confrontations as they have in the past, particularly at Selma and Birmingham, Ala. Appeals for donations were made at two huge rallies in Jackson and King said two days ago money had not been coming in at a rate sufficient to meet the needs of the march.

The long march opened the way for more concerted voter drives and political activity patterned after the Mississippi Freedom Democratic party line.

Boroughs Open Pittsburgh Rally

PITTSBURGH (AP) — State Sen. Leonard C. Staisey, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, is scheduled to address conventioners during the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Association of Boroughs today.

The three-day meeting opens today, with about 1,500 municipal officials expected to attend. Lt. Gov. Raymond P. Shafer, Republican gubernatorial nominee, is scheduled to speak during Tuesday's session.

Theme for the meeting is "The New Look in Boroughs."

Ambridge Crash Kills Driver, 22

An Ambridge man died of injuries Sunday suffered when his auto crashed into a bridge support shortly after midnight Saturday.

He was Thomas P. McNamara, 22, of 10 Economy Village, Ambridge.

Mr. McNamara died at 1:35 a.m. Sunday while being moved from Sewickley Valley Hospital to Mercy Hospital, Pittsburgh. His auto crashed into the bridge at 4th St. and Route 65 in Ambridge.

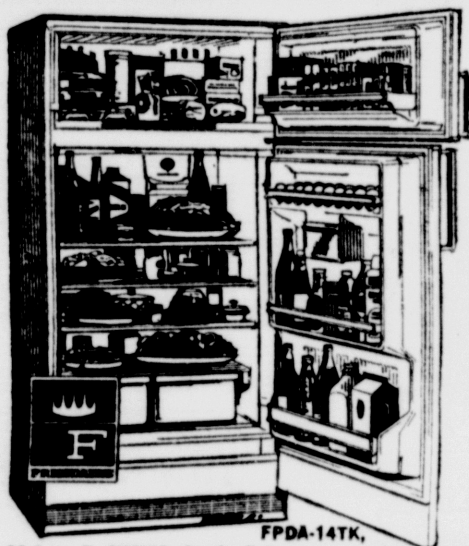

A passenger in his car, Robert Cardarelli, 22, of Ambridge, suffered fractures of the pelvis, right elbow and left leg. He was reported in serious condition at Sewickley Valley Hospital.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Many of us have inexpensive plastic foam type coolers and love them — except for one thing.

It is so easy to jab a hole in them when putting them in the car, or setting them on a sharp stone on the ground.

After ruining two of these chests, my husband had a wonderful idea.

He went to the grocery store and got a heavy corrugated cardboard carton just a little larger than the ice chest.

When we are ready to go picnicking, we put the cardboard box in the car, set the ice chest in it, and remove box and chest when we reach the picnic area.

I'll admit it isn't quite as easy to handle this way, but it is worth it, as it certainly prevents having to buy new chests so often.

BLADYS BAINERS.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is another use for your nylon net:

I sewed it over the wire guards on three of our electric house fans for safety's sake. One never knows when a child might stick a toy or a hand into the blades.

I found it very easy to whip the net on the frame of the fan with a needle and thread.

RUTH DAVIS.

DEAR HELOISE: Recently while dieting, I discovered a way to add flavor to cooked vegetables without having to season them with calorie-adding oil or butter.

I add a beef bouillon cube (chicken or vegetable flavored cubes may be substituted), to the water in the pan, and let it dissolve thoroughly before putting in the vegetable I want to cook. This way, the flavor of the beef goes through the vegetable.

Two cubes will flavor a large pot of vegetables, and there are only about six calories in each cube.

ANNE MURRAY.

I tried this, and it works just fine. Thanks for the hint. I'm sure lots of our readers will want to try.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When you make a summer dress, add a panel of the same material to the inside of the skirt.

This usually eliminated the need for a slip — and is, oh, so cool.

A.B.S.

DEAR HELOISE: I discovered that if I put my children's everyday clothing in the freezer (right off the line), by the next day the clothes are just the right dampness to iron.

This saves time sprinkling them, and also prevents mildew, which is so prevalent during warm weather.

A READER.

DEAR FOLKS: For those of you who just cannot grow philodendron inside your home (if it's on stakes or poles, this makes a great deal of difference), try putting some water in a plunger-type spray bottle (after setting the plant in the bathtub or sink) and spraying the leaves themselves!

Spray them all along the pole, wetting the pole, also.

I have found that the water gets to the roots (there's one at the bottom of the stem of each leaf if you will notice), and the plant will grow faster.

This is also good if you have low humidity in your home.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: To make a small baby's nap more comfortable in hot weather, simply slip a fresh pillowcase over the blanket - covered pad in the bassinette. This provides cool softness.

Also, for a lightweight cover, stitch the edges of two thin diapers together for a tiny sheet.

MRS. PETER FUNCKE.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

Confidentially

TO ALSO IN FAVOR OF POLYGAMY FOR THOSE OVER 60: Yes, I read what the doctor in Salt Lake City said and I can understand why widows and married men would applaud the idea. I also understand why married women aren't wildly enthusiastic about it. I have serious doubts that the practice will be legalized in your lifetime. Dad, so simmer down and stop dreaming.

3 Held In Stealing

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police are holding three employees of the Philadelphia Naval Yard exchange—Will Earthy Davison, 29; Scurlock B. Casselle, 48; and Moses Lee Williams, 47 — on charges of stealing 4,300 worth of cigarettes from the post since last January.

It Will Be Known As Field Museum

CHICAGO — The Chicago Natural History Museum will again be known as the Field Museum of Natural History.

"The action was taken to permanently honor the several members of the Field family who have contributed for more than 70 years toward the building of one of the world's great museums," said James L. Palmer, president of the museum.

The museum originally was incorporated by a contribution of $1 million from Marshall Field as the Columbian Museum of Chicago in 1893 for the Columbian Exposition. The name was changed in 1894 to Field Columbian Museum. In 1905 the museum became known as the Field Museum of Natural History until 1943 when it was known as the Chicago Natural History Museum, a name the Fields thought would more closely identify it with the people of Chicago.

The Fields have made numerous contributions through the years to support the museum.

Crashes Kill 19 On Roads

By The Associated Press

Safety officials' traffic statistic charts took another beating over the weekend as fatal accidents around Ohio—one alone which snuffed out five lives—surged to blackened proportion.

At least 19 persons were killed between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday, about the same number as last weekend. Of the five killed in the single accident, four were teen-agers.

The relatively high toll comes as an ominous note. The long Fourth of July weekend begins at 6 p.m. this Friday. And between then and midnight next Monday... a long weekend... the Ohio Department of Highway Safety has predicted that 33 persons will be killed.

Walled-Up Treasure Found In Old House

LOVELL, Wyo. (AP) — Ferrell Mangus recently purchased an old house for rental property. He started to remodel the old house and found about $1,000 in silver dollars and other assorted coins plastered in the walls of the kitchen.

Mangus said the coins were mostly dated between 1921 and 1923.

The house had been moved from nearby Kane, Wyo., to Lovell about 18 years ago by a shepherd, George Flesher, who died 10 years ago.

ing 45, and set a penalty of $15 and costs for Henry J. Davis of 305 Gardendale Ave., charged with driving 50. Two others forfeited $17.50 appearance bonds. They were listed as Raymond Bigelow of Negley R. D. 1 and Sandra K. Hughes of Beaver.

The court granted a continuance to Gabriel Von Ludman Jr. of Fredericktown, cited Saturday at 7:44 p.m. on a charge of driving 45 miles an hour.

Two were arrested Sunday at 2 a.m. in the same radar check.

William C. Pipes of 438 Carolina Ave., Chester, accused of driving 50 miles an hour, forfeited a $17.50 bond. A hearing is set this afternoon for Robert H. Cook of 960 Ohio Ave., charged with driving 45.

A fine of $10 and costs was imposed on Thomas E. Cook of Valley Dr., cited Thursday on a charge of driving 47 miles an hour on St. Clair Ave.

David K. Hooper, who was arrested June 17 on a charge of speeding 47 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on W. 8th St., forfeited a $17.50 appearance bond.

Adam G. Mort Jr. of Glenmoor pleaded not guilty to a charge of driving 45 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on St. Clair Thursday at 10:50 p.m. He also was cited by Officers Winters and Devon.

Both officers testified their radar meter indicated Mort was driving 45 miles an hour as he approached the set, which was mounted on a parked cruiser at Manor Ln.

"I'm a careful driver; I believe in arresting people who exceed the speed limit," Mort told the judge. "I thought I was going 35 — that's what my speedometer said the last time I looked at it."

Mort said when he saw the red light blinking on the cruiser, he checked his speed and found it was 38.

The judge commented that Mort had convicted himself with his own testimony, since he admitted exceeding the 35-mile limit.

DeGaulle Views Missile Firing At Soviet Space Site

LENINGRAD, U.S.S.R. (AP) —French officials disclosed today that President Charles De Gaulle witnessed the launching of a missile as well as an earth satellite during his visit to the closely guarded Soviet space center in central Asia Saturday.

Although the spokesman did not say so, it apparently was a military rocket displayed to impress De Gaulle with Soviet strength.

The spokesman reported Saturday that De Gaulle had seen the Soviets launch an unmanned earth satellite into orbit from their center for space research and military rocket in Baikonur, in a desert area about 1,200 miles southeast of Moscow.

March Could Ignite Ohio Ballot Issue

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A 150-mile welfare march could trigger a hot political issue in Ohio.

The march is due to end Thursday when the contingent arrives from Cleveland to place their demands for higher welfare payments at the door of Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Rhodes is seeking re-election this year against Democratic State Sen. Frazier Reams Jr. whose main campaign theme attacks the governor "for favoring big business and ignoring the needs of the people."

The governor has said little publicly about the marchers but has indicated he thinks little of their idea of a special legislative session to increase relief payments by about $34 million a year.

A spokesman in Rhodes' office said the governor probably will make no comment until the marchers arrive "and until we see how many show up."

The group left Cleveland last Monday and reached Bellville, about 55 miles northeast of here, by Sunday night. The marchers have numbered in the 40s most days, with one-day sympathizers sometimes adding to the ranks.

Most of the marchers are Cleveland welfare recipients who are members of the sponsoring Ohio Steering Committee for Adequate Welfare. About half are Negro and half white.

A Cleveland social workers' organization has donated $400 to help feed and house the marchers, and several churches have provided places to sleep along the way.

Russian Spy Tells All, Philippine Paper Says

MANILA (AP) — The Manila Bulletin claimed today that a Russian found floating in a rubber dinghy off Palawan Island in March was a spy who had made revelations of "vital military significance" to the Western powers.

The paper said the Russian, Anatoli Geisenko, 37, had talked "under intense grilling" by Filipino and Russian-speaking U.S. counterintelligence agents.

The report said Geisenko had "spilled all" about a Soviet espionage plan to infiltrate other countries, particularly the United States and Britain.

The only charge the Philippines could bring against the Russian was illegal entry into the country, the Bulletin reported.

is a six-foot-high platform, atop it a man. He wears a peaked, wide-brim campaign hat, the hallmark of the drill sergeant. He is starting you off in basic training — the "essential fundamentals" of military life and operation.

The recruit, whatever service he is in, is going to wonder about some of the things, like saluting, the military calls essential.

It is something you probably will get used to, but never like.

FIRST YOU learn to march and to fight with basic weapons and with hands — and feet. In this day of jeeps, trucks, armored personnel carriers, helicopters and transport planes, why this marching stuff? And since about half of all men in military service are unlikely ever to engage in actual combat, why the use of arms?

Viet Nam has demonstrated that men still must move on foot after they have been airlifted into a battle zone. And back in home bases, marching in formation preserves organization and keeps a group from becoming a shuffling mob.

Even if you eventually wind up in automotive maintenance, you may be called upon in battle to defend your position or to move forward as a replacement. So you learn the basics of combat.

In about the second or third week of training, you go into the basic combat phase.

On the drill field, they show you how to outlive your enemy. It is rough but can make the difference between becoming an old veteran or a new casualty.

IN TRAINING, a man's basic weapon is the M14 rifle. You spend hours and days learning how to service and use the M14. You move on through the manual of arms and into marksmanship, how and when to fire at what kinds of targets in daylight and darkness.

The M14, like military rifles for more than two centuries, is fitted with the bayonet mount. You learn the rudiments of bayonet work in the first hours of drill field training, the thrust toward the enemy's chest and throat, the best way to pull the bayonet out swiftly to meet attack from another enemy.

There are other hours of hand-to-hand combat training. Like weaponry, hand-to-hand combat has undergone changes. Along with learning to kick or use the butt of the rifle against the groin, hand-to-hand combat now includes some of the techniques of karate and judo. You learn also about another handy weapon, the grenade.

An increasing number of drill instructors are fresh back from Viet Nam. They speak and teach from experience.

The sergeant up on the platform calls a 10-minute break. He puts his hands on his hips, looks over the two ranks, tells them:

"Most of you look pretty good, but you've got a lot more to do."

ASSISTANT drill instructors work with individuals who don't seem to catch on quickly.

Like back home in school, there is an examination time at the end of the eight weeks — "combat proficiency test." It embraces 14 subjects — weapon use, guard duty, advancing against dug-in enemy, operating under gas attack conditions, first aid — and 22 questions on general military subjects.

You have been taught what to do under atomic attack; the rudiments of tactical intelligence; the code of conduct (give your captors only your name, rank and serial number and answer no questions which he can use in his operations or as blackmail against your family back home).

You have received some lectures and viewed some training film on counter-insurgency (helping a local population while winning it away from the enemy and over to your side).

If you flunk, you may have to go through one or more subjects. But you probably won't flunk. At Fort Dix instructors estimate that out of a group of 220 recruits only four or five won't pass.

Next — we'll tell you about pay and benefits.

Congresswomen Plan
'Equality' In Jury Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Women members of Congress say they will try to wipe out all distinctions between men and women in jury service when the administration's civil rights act reaches the floor of Congress.

The bill, nearing final action in the House Judiciary Committee, would eliminate the laws of Alabama, Mississippi and South Carolina that exclude women from jury duty.

The women contend the bill doesn't go far enough. They say it would leave unaffected the laws of 22 other states and the District of Columbia that excuse women from jury service solely because of their sex or if they have family or household duties.

Insecticides were the first product to be dispensed by metal aerosol containers. "Bug bombs" were developed in World War II to dispense insecticide against malarial mosquitoes in the South Pacific.

Women Lose
$87 In Thefts

A thief obtained $87 in lootings which two women left unattended on the Ohio River front near the Chester Bridge Sunday afternoon, police reported.

Mrs. Greta Halfhill of Crestview Dr. told officers about 9:30 p. m. Sunday that her purse was looted of $80 between 2 and 7 p. m. after she left it in a small boat which was docked just upstream from the Broadway Wharf. She said the loot included three $20 bills and two $10's.

Mrs. June Work of 527 Maple

St. reported $7 was removed from her purse, which she had placed on a picnic table on the riverbank near the same spot. The thief took a $5 bill and two $1's, she said.

Meanwhile, police continued investigation of the looting of a guest's room at the Travelers Hotel, reported Saturday, in which an intruder escaped with about $64 in cash and other items.

Maurie Stahl said the intruder forced the transom over the door to gain entrance to his room, taking $50 in change in a red silk money bag; 24 Kennedy half-dollars, two old silver dollars, a small leather overnight bag and another small leather bag with the initials "S" on it. Stahl said the money bag bears the imprint "Clay County Bank & Trust Co." He reported the theft to police late Saturday morning. The room was entered some time between 8:30 and 10 p. m. Friday, he said.

The newly dedicated National Geographic Society Laboratory in Nairobi, Kenya, will provide additional facilities for the study of archeological specimens recovered by Dr. Louis S. B. Leakey, whose investigations into prehistoric man have been supported by the society since 1959.

The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers will bore two peepholes 250 feet back of the precipice on each side of the American Niagara Falls. The problem is rockslides.

East End Men Fined In Fight

Two East End men, including one identified as an AWOL sailor, were fined $25 and costs each today in Municipal Court on charges of disorderly conduct by fighting early Saturday on Mulberry St.

Nathaniel Hayes of 1171 Harker Ave. and Fireman App. Walter B. Parson of 471 Mulberry St. were arrested at 2:54 a.m. by Patrolmen Jack Strobel and Howard Frontz, officers reported.

Parson pleaded guilty, while Hayes entered a "no contest" plea before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Police said they have on file a report from Navy authorities alleging that Parson has been absent without leave since June 13 from the vessel Cascade, docked in New York City. Officers indicated he will be held for Naval authorities.

Hayes was fined $15 and costs on a separate charge filed this morning by Parson. Parson alleged that Hayes backed his auto into Parson's car.

Hayes was charged with violation of a city ordinance that forbids backing a motor vehicle without exercising due caution to ascertain that the movement can be made with safety.

Parson's affidavit alleged his car was struck Saturday. Both men were free over the weekend on $57.50 appearance bonds.

Man, 57, Asphyxiated By Heavy Tombstone

LEOMINSTER, Mass. (AP)—Joseph D. Gillis, 57, was killed when a tombstone fell on him.

Dr. Charles Wheeler, medical examiner, said Gillis was asphyxiated Sunday by a 200-pound tombstone he grabbed when he lost his balance while walking in Pine Grove Cemetery. The stone fell on the man's chest. Dr. Wheeler said.

Firm Begins Paving Work For Auto Lot

The Tri-State Asphalt Corp. moved in equipment today to begin blacktop surfacing of the new Ceramic Annex parking lot.

Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said the contractor was scheduled to apply the preliminary coating — called a "tack coat" — in its work today and begin the finish courses Tuesday. The job will require about three days in all.

But the lot will remain closed after the surfacing is completed to allow installation of guard rails and parking meters, Vodrey said.

Tri-State applied a compacted slag base to the lot about two weeks ago. The site then was opened to free parking pending the surfacing and installation of meters.

In addition to the lot proper, the contractor will blacktop Church Alley between Crook Alley and Market St. and the small city parking lot at the northeast corner of 3rd and Market Sts. The surface of the lot at 3rd and Market was torn up recently to allow installation of a sewer in the Ceramic Annex lot.

Tri-State was awarded the paving contract last winter when city officials also let other jobs, including those for razing of buildings on the site and erection of a retaining wall at the lower end of the new lot.

The city acquired the property in 1965 to expand the original Ceramic Lot, which fronts on E. 4th St. near Crook Alley. The annex will have a capacity of about 70 autos. The original Ceramic Lot and the annex are separated by Church Alley.

Grass Fire Quelled

SALINEVILLE — Firemen extinguished a minor grass fire in an area south of here Sunday afternoon at 2.

2 In Hospital After Mishap

Two Wellsville men were hospitalized with injuries received in a car-truck crash Sunday at 7:10 a.m. on the East Liverpool - Wellsville highway almost three miles south of the city limits.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the crash involved a 1964 pickup truck operated by James Griffin, 67, of Main St. and a 1965 coach driven by Cleve Jack Pitts, 39, of Wellsville R. D. 1.

Both were headed south when Pitts slowed for a rock slide on the road. Griffin was unable to halt and hit the rear of the car. Both vehicles then jumped over the slide and came to rest along the highway.

Griffin, who was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance, was in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with a fractured right knee.

Pitts was in "fairly good" condition with contusions of the back and shoulders.

Two other area mishaps were investigated by the patrol over the weekend.

A 1963 truck operated by Fred William Polen, 28, of Maple Hill, Salineville, and a 1963 convertible driven by Richard Leroy Powers, 20, of Alliance figured in a crash Sunday at 3 p.m. on Route 62 just west of Route 173.

Officers said Polen was headed west on Route 62 when Powers started out of a private road.

The convertible skidded on a patch of oil into the path of the truck, officers reported.

A motorcycler operated by Danny Calvin Panley, 20, of Pittsburgh was hit in the rear by a station wagon driven by R. P. Miller, 40, of Canton Sunday at 5:15 a.m. at the intersection of Routes 170 and 30. Both were southbound on Route 170.

Panley stopped at the intersection and was hit by Miller, who was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance, officers reported.

Dayton Woman Killed In Turnpike Collision

BECKLEY, W. Va. (AP)—Two women motorists from Ohio collided on the West Virginia Turnpike north of here Sunday and one of them died in the flaming wreckage.

The victim was Jean McClain, 26, of Dayton, who reportedly was northbound when the accident happened near the Mossy interchange.

'Engaged Girls' Honored During Party Given Here

Local "engaged girls" were feted with a party given by Wellcome Wagon International Friday night in the offices of the Ohio Valley Gas Co. Thirty attended.

Mrs. Margaret Hall, hostess, and Mrs. Ruth Ralston, assistant hostess, arranged the event attended by prospective brides and their mothers. The girls received carnation corsages.

A cooking demonstration was conducted by Miss Janice Bethel of Salem, the "Betty Newton" of the Gas Co. Using the theme "Dinner on the Double," she prepared a complete meal, demonstrated the table arrangement and served the food to the guests. Home service booklets were distributed.

Mrs. Hall explained the purpose of the organization, often referred to as a service "in the business of building friendships." She explained the basic policy "includes cooperation with all religious faiths, civic and social service groups and participation in these activities which keep a community a good place in which to live.

She listed the sponsoring merchants who are members and presented the girls with kits of gifts from the group.

Collin Neal, assistant cashier of the First National Bank, explained banking services in which the young girls would be interested.

Representing the Frank C. Crook Furniture Co., Harold Allison, manager, gave the early history and background of the company.

Mrs. Mary Lou Springer, head of the D. M. Ogilvie bridal department, offered assistance in the preparation of the forthcoming weddings.

Mrs. Ralston conducted games and contests and awarded prizes to Miss Joyce Glover, Miss Linda Lee Quick, Miss Pamela Coleman and Miss Susan Young.

Another party will be scheduled in the near future.

Sweet Adelines To Attend Area Event At New Castle

Plans to attend an inter-chapter party at New Castle were discussed during the meeting of Sweet Adelines, Inc., Friday night at the Potters Savings and Loan Co. annex.

Members will meet at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at the bank parking lot. They will participate in the program at New Castle.

Mrs. Marjorie Stover, quartet promotion chairman, announced plans for the formation of impromptu quartets, with rehearsals to be scheduled monthly at her home in Dixonville.

Mrs. Faye Wright, show chairman, distributed printed lists of the committees who will assist with the annual barbershop parade Nov. 5 at Westgate.

The ways and means committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Doris Cameron, announced plans for a rummage sale Aug. 29.

The chapter were notified of the international convention Oct. 12-15 at Houston, Tex. A tour of the Astrodome is among events arranged by the hostess unit, the Port of Harmony Chapter. The deadline for reservations is Sept. 18.

Mrs. Jan Dietz, editor of "The Potter Patter," distributed the bulletin, which included an article, "The Seven Ways to Kill a Chapter Without Really Trying." She reminded the deadline for the next edition is July 13.

Mrs. Ruth Rinehart, president, said the executive board will meet after rehearsal the first Friday of each month.

Other reports were heard from Mrs. Alberta Bates, treasurer, and Mrs. Sonya Rose, corresponding secretary.

The next session will be held Friday.

Suit Challenges Federal Aid For Catholic Schools

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A suit challenging constitutionality of federal aid to parochial schools is on file in U. S. District Court here.

The suit asks $5 million damages to the 22 plaintiffs for "the necessity of instituting action for relief from encroachment by Congress on their rights."

The suit was filed June 13 by Protestants and Other Americans United for Separation of Church and State, an organization active in opposing any public support for parochial institutions. The suit lists 22 individual plaintiffs, 13 of them from Dayton.

Specifically challenged is a section of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 which permits allocation of funds for use in buying books and library materials. The suit asks that Dayton public schools be ordered to return to the federal treasury $100,013 it received under this section, including $14,606 which was distributed to 22 parochial schools.

Council Meeting Set

LISBON — Routine business is expected at a meeting of Council tonight at 7:30 at the Village Hall, with Mayor Dean Stockman presiding. Council is on a summer schedule, meeting only the fourth Monday of each month through August.

Scouts' Camp Period Begins

LISBON — Seventy-one Boy Scouts and their leaders initiated the 1966 summer camping season Sunday at Camp Twin Spruce on Leesville Lake.

Sweltering weather and a turnout of volunteers helping clean up grounds and quarters gave the two cooks all they could handle. They prepared supper for 130 Scouts, boys and men, from Columbiana Council, Boy Scouts of America.

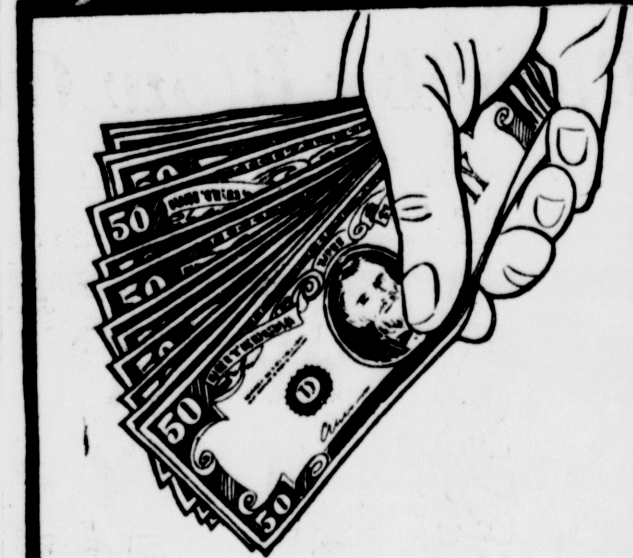

Scouts from Columbiana Troops 16, 18 and 69, New Waterford 35 and Unity 39 are in camp for the first of the six one-week sessions.

Moving in next Sunday will be approximately 100 boys from Lisbon 1, Salem 2, East Liverpool 12 and 42, East Rochester 93, Canfield 25 and North Lima 80. The last two are in Mahoning Valley Council, but attended Columbiana Council's Twin Spruce camp the past two years.

Japanese Unit Backs Closer U.S. Relations

TOKYO (AP) — A committee of Japan's ruling Liberal-Democratic party today advocated increased military ties with the United States.

The party committee studying security matters urged that the U.S.-Japan security treaty be extended in 1970 for a third 10 years.

Thief Takes Keys, Leaves Police Car

ARTESIA, N. M. (AP) — Usually a state police car discourages thieves. But not so with Officer Lesley Dudley's car. Recently, someone took a personal radio from his cruiser parked in front of his Artesia home.

Then, three nights later when the cruiser was parked in front of the Artesia Fire Department building, someone took the car keys.

Dudley didn't think the latter act very funny. "It put the car out of commission," he declared, "because all extra keys have to come from Santa Fe (state capital) and the entire switch had to be changed."

Tips On Painting Of Metal Trim

Metal accent trim and grillwork used to beautify homes can detract from their overall appearance if the paint is old or worn. However, today's paint products make it a simple matter to give the glistening newness of color to these building extras. The National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association at Washington, D.C., has some suggestions for proper choice of paints, surface preparations and coatings application procedures which will insure a professional-looking job.

THE FIRST step, of course, is a thorough pre-painting cleanup. And no matter what the metal — galvanized steel, wrought iron, or aluminum — the wash-down is the same. A heavy brush, sandpaper and a mixture of household detergent and water will remove surface dirt with ease. If grease spots or signs of rust and corrosion remain, however, a solution of phosphoric acid and emulsifier or solvent will do the job. These products are available in concentrated form at most paint stores, complete with label instructions which should be followed to the letter.

In choosing your materials, it's a good idea to ask your paint dealer for suggestions, because each type of metal will require a specific coatings product for best results. Often primer coats also will be needed if bare metal is exposed or extreme weather conditions prevail.

Now for the paint application procedures, so vital to lasting and beautiful surfaces. Assume yourself that the product to be used is suited for your metal surfaces, then check to make sure that the about-to-be-painted trim is thoroughly clean and dry.

Use drop cloths to cover areas which will not be painted, taking particular precautions for spray-painting because of the excess spattering which can occur on windy days. Read label instructions carefully. If stirring is called for, do a good job of it. Some paints — those which contain zinc dust for instance — will require frequent stirring throughout application to prevent pigments or other components from settling at the bottom of the container.

WHEN ALL preparations are completed, you're ready for the fun part of painting. But, before you start, here's another hint that will make the job even easier.

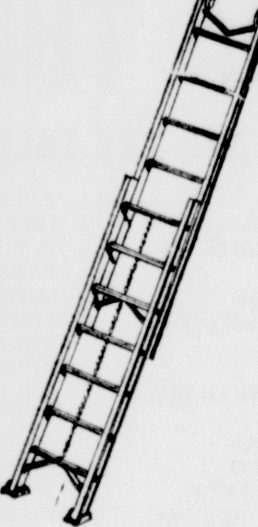

There is a brush specifically made for every painting job, and painting metal trim is no exception. The intricately-patterned trim found on many Spanish-styled homes, for instance, is easily coated with a round brush, sometimes called a "sash" brush. From 1 to 1½ inches in diameter is the best brush size here.

And don't skimp on paint for economy's sake, because two or perhaps even three coats of some coatings is required to avoid the expense of frequent re-painting.

The color choice is up to you. And whether you want to renew a traditional black or coordinate your trim to the wall surfaces of your home, you'll marvel at the ease with which this important part of your total makeover is achieved.

Steel Defense Orders Grow

CLEVELAND (AP)—Defense orders for steel are exerting more influence on the over-all market as they increase steadily, Steel Magazine said today. "While military rated orders account for no more than five per cent of mill volume, there's little doubt a much larger percentage of industry shipments is going for defense purposes on an unrated basis," the publication said.

It explained that many users are avoiding the red tape of priorities where products are readily available.

The metalworking journal said the defense market is taking large tonnages of barbed wire, bomb casings, alloy bars, high strength steels, special steels and hot rolled sheets.

Steel reported that some orders are being placed for delivery periods as far ahead as March, 1967, and said this would indicate that quick settlement of the war in Viet Nam is not being counted on in government circles.

"Meanwhile, military steel requirements could mount steadily placing mills under growing pressure for shipments," it added.

The magazine said the general market situation has improved in the last few weeks with some producers reporting bookings running a little ahead of shipments.

"Rising market optimism stems from growing evidence that mill shipments will rebound in August and September from the summer low point," Steel said. "Order books for those months are reported to be filling at a satisfactory pace."

It added that much tonnage booked in recent weeks has been for delivery beyond July, a month in which shipments will be curtailed by auto model changeovers and shutdowns for vacations by general manufacturing plants.

The magazine said steel production last week was estimated at 2,655,000 net tons compared with 2,710,000 tons in the preceding week.

Drownings Claim 6 Over Weekend In West Virginia

CHARLESTON, (W. V.) (AP)—West Virginia recorded its worst rash of drownings since the Memorial Day weekend as six persons lost their lives in water connected mishaps. Eight persons drowned during the Memorial Day weekend.

In addition, three persons were killed in highway accidents in West Virginia and a state resident died on an Ohio highway.

The state's road death toll for the year now stands at 210, compared with 203 deaths by this day a year ago.

Two of the drownings were recorded in Summers County. James Edward Johnson, 21, of Brooks, Summers County, drowned in the Bluestone Reservoir Sunday.

The other Summers County drowning victim was 22-year-old Lonnie Cook of Fall Rock who was fishing in Bluestone River Saturday night and apparently became entangled in his trotline.

A South Parkersburg man, Robert E. Lee, 23, drowned while swimming in Goose Creek near Petroleum, Ritchie County.

In another Sunday mishap, eight-year-old Pauline Davis of Bartley, McDowell County, drowned while wading in the Dry Fork near her home.

Lawrence G. Hanna of Summersville, tried unsuccessfully to swim from a capsized boat in the Summersville Reservoir.

Jerry Collins, 24, of Craigsville drowned while water skiing in the back waters of Sutton Reservoir.

One woman was killed in a fiery two-vehicle crash on the West Virginia Turnpike Sunday. The woman — still unidentified — was dead on arrival at Beckley Hospital.

Hilo Brown, 28, of Rampage, Boone County, was killed in a two-car crash Sunday on U. S. 119 near Blair, Logan County.

William S. Watts, 21, of Rig, Grant County, was killed on U.S. 220 near Moorefield Saturday night when his convertible failed to negotiate a curve and overturned.

A 13-year-old Parkersburg girl, Louise Bell Moore, was killed near Mentor, Ohio, Friday night when she fell or jumped from a moving car.

Commissioner Likes Toll Road's Nickname

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—"Alligator Alley," a derogatory name hung on a controversial toll road project across the Florida Everglades, has caught the fancy of an official who'd like to keep it. "I think it's colorful, especially for northerners," said Broward County Commissioner John D. Easterlin.

"It was dubbed 'Alligator Alley' by those who opposed it," said Easterlin, "and now that it's been called that I like it."

The 77-mile, two-lane toll road, which will connect Fort Lauderdale on the Atlantic Coast of Florida with Naples on the Gulf Coast, is expected to be completed by 1967.

College Gets Grant

NEW YORK (AP)—Dickinson College in Carlisle, Pa., has received a $2 million grant from the Ford Foundation. The foundation announced Sunday it has made grants totaling $39.5 million to 11 colleges and universities. In Carlisle, Dr. Howard L. Rubendall, president of Dickinson College, said the school must raise $6 million on its own to qualify for the full amount.

ONE OF THE LARGEST PIECES of Structural steel to be erected thus far at the construction site of Weirton Steel's "Mill of the Future" was this 95-ton truss chord shown installed between two steel columns. Produced at the fabricating plant of the American Bridge Co. in Aliquippa, the girder spans 170 feet between the columns and contains enough steel to make about 65 automobiles, 126 small tractors, or 900 refrigerators. Other larger chords are to be erected later as construction proceeds on Weirton Steel's ultra-modern new plant.

Dropped Cigarette Blamed In Accident

LISBON — Richard A. Prasco, 18, of 338 E. Washington St. was cut between the eyes at 5:40 p.m. Saturday in a traffic accident on W. Chestnut St. just west of the Green St. intersection.

Police said he was driving west on Chestnut and struck the left rear corner of a parked 1961 station wagon owned by Ross Wilson of 411 W. Chestnut. Officer Richard Kofeel said Prasco told him he dropped a cigarette and reached down to pick it up. His car left 10 feet of skidmarks before the impact. Police estimated $350 damage to Prasco's 1965 sedan and moderate damage to Wilson's car. There was also $15 damage to a storm sewer catch basin. Prasco posted a $25 appearance bond on a reckless operation charge and told police he would forfeit.

2 Men Face Hearing For Fight At Lisbon

LISBON — Earmel Wallen of Salineville and Clarence Fatherly Jr. of Tarleton Lane, Salem, are named in multiple warrants filed Saturday night after a fight in Carl's Tavern on Market St.

Reporting $40 damage to the tavern, owner Carl Sutcliffe charged Wallen with disturbing the peace and disorderly conduct and malicious destruction of property and Fatherly with the same offense, plus assault. Police said the disturbance occurred about 6:40 p.m.

No hearing date has been set for the mayor's court cases.

Mishaps Kill 20 In Pennsylvania During Weekend

By The Associated Press
Pennsylvania accidents killed 20 persons over the weekend, including two men fatally injured when cars they were repairing slipped from supporting jacks and crushed them.

Eleven persons died in traffic accidents, six drowned and three died of miscellaneous cases.

The victims in Western Pennsylvania:

Greenville — Jeffrey Wagner, 2, of Hubbard, Ohio, choked to death on a bit of frankfurter Sunday while on a family picnic south of here, the Mercer County deputy coroner reported.

Uniontown — Charles F. Jones, 47, of Uniontown was working beneath his car at his home Sunday when it slipped from the jack and crushed him to death.

Bellevue — Donald Black, 18, drowned in a swimming pool in Bellevue Sunday.

Greenville — A station wagon in which Mrs. Virginia Albanese, 44, of Sharon was riding struck a tree Sunday, killing her.

Ambridge — Thomas McNamara, 22, of Economy Village was killed Saturday night when a car he was driving struck a bridge girder on Route 65 near Ambridge.

Erie — Andrew Hodak, 58, of Gibsonia drowned when he fell from a boat while fishing Saturday night in Presque Isle State Park on Lake Erie.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures Tuesday through Saturday will average 4 to 7 degrees above normal. Representative normal highs: Cincinnati 86-66, Columbus 86-61, Cleveland 81-59. Warming midweek then cooler at the weekend. Scattered showers late Tuesday or Wednesday and again near the weekend expected to total less than one-quarter inch south to one-half inch or more north.

The economic growth rate of the Western Hemisphere south of the United States grew in 1965 at an annual rate of 5.4 per cent, up from its 5.3 per cent rate recorded in 1964 and more than double the 2.1 per cent rate recorded in 1963.

Perry Halts Reds With 10-0 Shutout

Fryman Blanks Phillies On 3-Hitter

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Gaylord Perry is running like Juan Marichal and winning like him too.

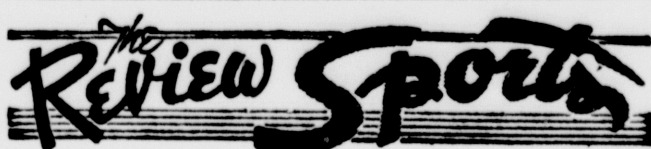

Perry continued his sprint toward teammate Marichal and Los Angeles' Sandy Koufax Sunday, pitching a two-hitter as the National League-leading San Francisco Giants stopped Cincinnati's eight-game winning streak 10-0.

The victory was the 10th against one defeat for Perry, giving him a .909 percentage, the best among the league's top pitchers. Marichal, at 13-2, has an .867 mark while Koufax, who posted his 14th triumph against two defeats Sunday, is at .875.

In rambling toward the best season of his five-year major league career, Perry has picked up one of Marichal's habits. Instead of plodding slowly to the mound each inning as virtually all pitchers do, Marichal runs.

Perry did it Sunday, except for the last couple of innings, despite 94-degree weather and a weak left ankle.

"I want to work extra hard to stay in rotation," Perry explained. "I want to try and impress Herman Franks."

Perry undoubtedly has impressed Manager Franks — and all of the other managers in the league.

The 27-year-old right-hander has accomplished half a 20-game season even though he missed nearly three weeks after hurting his left ankle sliding into second base May 24.

In other NL games, Los Angeles edged Atlanta 2-1, Pittsburgh trimmed Philadelphia 2-0, Houston topped St. Louis 6-3 in 11 innings and Chicago whipped New York 7-0 before losing 8-2.

While Perry stymied the Reds, the Giants exploded with five home runs — two by Tom Haller and one each by Jim Davenport, Don Landrum and Jim Hart. Jim Maloney suffered his third defeat. He has won nine.

Koufax became the winningest pitcher in the majors, scattering seven hits and striking out 11. The Braves tied the game 1-1 in the fifth on Hank Aaron's run-scoring single, but the Dodgers pulled it out in the ninth on Denis Menke's two-base error and Willie Davis' two-base hit.

Woody Fryman shut out Philadelphia on three hits while Roberto Clemente and Willie Stargell, who walked, scored the Pirate runs. Jose Pagan singled home Clemente in the fourth inning, and Donn Clendenon brought Stargell home in the eighth with a triple.

Jim Wynn's three-run homer off Joe Hoerner in the 11th inning boosted Houston past St. Louis. The Astros, blanked on five hits by Al Jackson through eight innings, erupted for three runs and a 3-3 tie in the ninth Wynn drove in the tying run with a sacrifice fly.

Curt Simmons pitched a five-hitter for the Cubs in the opener of the doubleheader and was supported by Ernie Banks, who drove in three runs with a single and a sacrifice fly.

Ron Santo extended his hitting streak to 25 straight games before leaving the game in the third inning. Santo suffered a double fracture of the left cheek bone when hit by a Jack Fisher pitch.

The Mets came back in the nightcap behind Dennis Ribant's six-hitter. The game was tied 1-1 until the eighth when New York scored five runs. The Mets broke it open after Glenn Beckert fumbled Johnny Lewis' grounder, allowing two runs to score.

Powell, Robinsons Team To Top LA

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

His name isn't Robinson, but Boog Powell is hitting like one.

Powell, who hasn't been getting the same recognition accorded Frank and Brooks Robinson in Baltimore's run for the American League pennant, again emphasized his credentials Sunday by driving in four runs with three hits in a 12-7 blasting of the California Angels.

And the way he's been going recently, the 24-year-old slugger first baseman may be ready to claim an equal share with the Robinsons in the Orioles' power structure.

At this time last month, Powell was hitting a woeful .185. Since then he has hit at a .402 clip while hammering nine homers and 30 runs batted in. The month-long burst has lifted his totals to where they bear favorable comparison with the more publicized Robinsons.

B. Robinson 15 63 .287
Powell 15 45 .295

With Powell driving in his four runs, Frank stroking four hits, Brooks knocking in the lead run and Russ Snyder collecting five hits — and taking over the AL batting lead with a .338 average — the Orioles built their league lead to three games over Detroit.

Minnesota clipped the Tigers twice 7-5 and 7-1, the New York Yankees swept the Chicago White Sox 7-2 and 2-0, Kansas City defeated Cleveland 4-2 before the Indians came back for a 14-3 triumph and Boston walked Washington 13-7 before the Senators turned the tables 9-3.

The Orioles, who wound up with 20 hits, led 3-0 and 4-3 but had to come from behind a 7-5 deficit in the eighth inning. Frank Robinson's single and an error by Jose Cardenal on the hit let Luis Aparicio score the tying run. Brooks Robinson then singled in the tie-breaker and Powell singled home another run.

The Twins rapped 14 hits in the opener with Harmon Killebrew slamming a double and two singles. A five-run fifth inning in which Killebrew doubled home a run and scored another put it away.

In the nightcap, the Twins again packed five runs into one inning, this time the third, and Jim Perry took it from there with a three-hitter. Ted Uhlaender singled home the tie-breaker run during the uprising and Zoilo Versalles stroked a two-run single.

Tom Tresh hit a two-run homer and Roger Maris hit a three-run shot in the Yankees' first-game victory. Fred Talbot, tagged for a homer by Ken Berry, scattered eight hits for the triumph.

Tresh singled home the only run Fritz Peterson needed in the nightcap after Ron White beat out a hit and Bobby Richardson walked in the third inning. Peterson checked the White Sox on six hits.

The A's won the opener on homers by Dick Green, Roger Repoz and Bert Campaneris.

The nightcap was deadlocked until the sixth when the Indians erupted for seven runs, including homers by Rocky Colavito — his seventh in five days — and Leon Wagner. Chico Salmon also homered for Cleveland.

The Red Sox won the opener as Joe Foy hit a grand-slam homer and Don Demeter and Rico Petrocelli contributed solo shots.

The Senators got even in the nightcap with Fred Valentine and Ken Harrelson hitting homers while Jim Hannan posted his first victory.

The Richeys Wait Quarter-Finals

U. S. Brother-Sister Act Could Make Tennis History

By GEOFFREY MILLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

LONDON (AP) — Cliff and Nancy Richey had a chance to make tennis history today by becoming the first brother-and-sister duo to reach the Wimbledon singles quarter-finals together.

After a weekend of waiting in the rain, the Richeys, of Dallas, Tex., were among the first competitors as the second week of the tournament got under way.

Nancy, 23, is almost there. She led Kathy Harter, of Seal Beach, Calif., 6-2, 2-0 before their fourth round match was halted by rain Saturday.

Cliff, 19, had a far tougher task. He was paired against Tony Roche, the Australian left-hander who won both the Italian and French titles this year and is seeded No. 2.

Roche has nursed an injured left ankle through the first three rounds, and has dropped only one set in that time.

Richey has nothing to trouble him except his erratic temperament. He battled through two four-setters and one five-setter last week to reach the fourth round.

Besides Richey, America has only one hope left for the men's title — Dennis Ralston, the 23-year-old Bakersfield, Calif., star, who has already reached the quarter-finals.

Three Australians are also in the last eight — Roy Emerson, the defending champion, Owen Davidson and Bob Hewitt.

Manuel Santana, the colorful court artist from Spain, was on the brink of joining them. He had a 2-0 sets lead over Bobby Wilson of Britain when rain interrupted their match on Saturday.

Ken Fletcher of Australia also was well placed, leading India's Lajid Mukerjee two sets to one.

The remaining fourth-round duel on today's program was between Cliff Drysdale of South Africa and Jan Leschly of Denmark.

Emerson, who is bidding for his third straight Wimbledon title, was still favorite as the Career Is Ended, Kauai King Sent Into Retirement

BALTIMORE (AP) — Injured Kauai King will be returned to Maryland and retirement.

Mike Ford will return $280,000 to syndicate members who purchased shares in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner.

Those were the rapid-fire development after a veterinarian examined X-rays of Kauai King's left front ankle Sunday and said he couldn't guarantee the 3-year-old colt would ever return to top form.

Kauai King, who finished fourth in the Belmont Stakes after winning the first two portions of the Triple Crown, pulled up lame last Saturday after a fifth-place finish in the Arlington Classic.

After being advised of Kauai King's long and possibly uncertain recovery period, Ford announced that the colt would be retired to stud at Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Sagamore Farm just outside Baltimore.

Ford, Kauai King's original sole owner, also reduced from $70,000 to $60,000 the value of each of the 36 shares in the syndicate which was organized after the Belmont.

Ford, who remained the largest stockholder in the syndicate by retaining title to eight shares, said he slashed the price "not as an inducement to stay in the syndicate, but as a show of good faith."

Each member of the syndicate, he told racing editor Bill Boniface of the Baltimore Sun-papers in a telephone interview, "will have the opportunity of getting out completely or taking the drop in price."

Jerrold Hoffberger, who organized what will now be a $2,160,000 syndicate, said he had talked with as many syndicate members as he could reach, "and nobody has said he's not going to buy in."

Ford announced his decision after receiving a report from Dr. Raymond Murphy of Laurel, Md.

After examining wet X-rays, Ford said, Murphy was "99 per cent sure no bones are fractured. However, he said the suspensories of the leg are pulled pretty bad and much

Sevy's Takes First-Half Pony Crown

Sevy's wrapped up the first half title in the Pony League with a 12-2 victory over Woodbine Saturday at Dopley Field.

A big six run third inning carried Sevy's to victory as Cornell pitched a three hitter. Lynch was the losing hurler.

Joe March continued his home run pace and drove in three runs.

Buckpasser Shatters Mile Race Record

CHICAGO (AP) — Buckpasser, sidelined throughout the celebrated Triple Crown activity, could seal the 3-year-old championship if he runs and wins the $100,000-added Chicagoan, July 9 at Arlington Park.

The bay son of Tom Fool, owned by Ogden Phipps and trained by Eddie Nely, took the lead for the 3-year-old championship Saturday when he set the world mile record of 1:32.3-5 in winning the Arlington Classic.

The Chicagoan, at 1 1/8 miles on the same Arlington strip, should be very much to Buckpasser's liking. Buckpasser has tackled the distance in three of his last five races and won them all.

Norm Snead Signs Three-Year Contract

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Quarterback Norman Snead has signed a three-year contract with the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League, the club announced today.

Last year, Snead completed 150 of 298 passes for a 52.1 per cent accuracy. His passes gained 2,346 yards and accounted for 15 touchdowns.

Casper Takes Western Open In Back-To-Back Victories

Billy Fires 283 To Win Event By 3

By JOE MOOSHL

Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Billy Casper, in command of himself and his game, won the Western Open Sunday by letting a corps of youngsters flounder in his wake and took another stride past faltering Arnold Palmer.

The 35-year-old Casper shot a steady one-under-par 35-35-70 for a 283 total, the only score to better Medina No. 3's par of 284 for 72 holes. He picked up the top prize of $20,000 to wrest the PGA money-winning lead from Palmer, whom he defeated in a playoff for the National Open crown last week.

Casper took dead aim at less experienced youngsters such as 24-year-old Kermit Zarley, 28-year-old Homero Blancas and 29-year-old Tommy Aaron. Aaron went into the final round with a one-stroke lead over the field, but Casper went in front on the third hole with a 12-foot birdie putt and dared the others to catch him.

Gay Brewer, with a 34-37-71, finished second with a 286, three strokes behind the winner, and took down second money of $12,000. Aaron blew to a 75 and Zarley shot a 74 as the youngsters settled for 287 totals good for a third-place tie and $6,250 each.

"I think it's a little tougher for them," said Casper in reference to the younger set's failure to catch him. "You'll notice Brewer, a seasoned pro, stood right in there. But the kids get a little excited."

"I know how it is," said Casper. "I went through it myself. But I played the game exactly as I would have if anyone else happened to be chasing me."

Palmer, shooting a final round of 38-34-72 for 289, was not among those chasing Casper and finished in a tie for ninth. Arnie took down only $2,400 giving him $65,817 for the year. Casper, who attributed his fine showing to the fact that he did not have a single three-putt green, zoomed to a total of $69,749 for the year.

Atlanta 300 Title Is Won By Andretti

ATLANTA (AP) — After 500 consecutive miles as a front-runner in U.S. Auto Club races, Mario Andretti is ready to turn his fine Italian hand to the wheel of a stock car.

The 26-year-old native of Trieste, Italy, led all the way Sunday in winning the second annual Championship 300 at Atlanta International Raceway in his sleek Dean Racing Enterprises rear-engine Ford.

His victory came on top of two straight USAC wins at Milwaukee and Langhorne, both of which he led from start to finish. This is the first time in USAC history a driver had led 500 consecutive miles.

"This is the tireddest I've ever been after a race," Andretti said, adding that the 90-degree heat which simmered over the 1½-mile high-banked asphalt Atlanta Raceway was troublesome.

But he's ready to take over the wheel of a Dodge Charger in next week's Firecracker 400 at Daytona Beach, Fla. "It's a good car," he said.

Andretti, who now lives at Nazareth, Pa., had nothing but praise for the rear-engine Ford he drove in the Atlanta race. "The car ran just beautifully," he said. "Thank God for the mechanics."

Andretti made only one pit stop in the 300-mile race and his mechanics got him back on the track after only 22 seconds. He pitted shortly after the halfway point on the 114th lap.

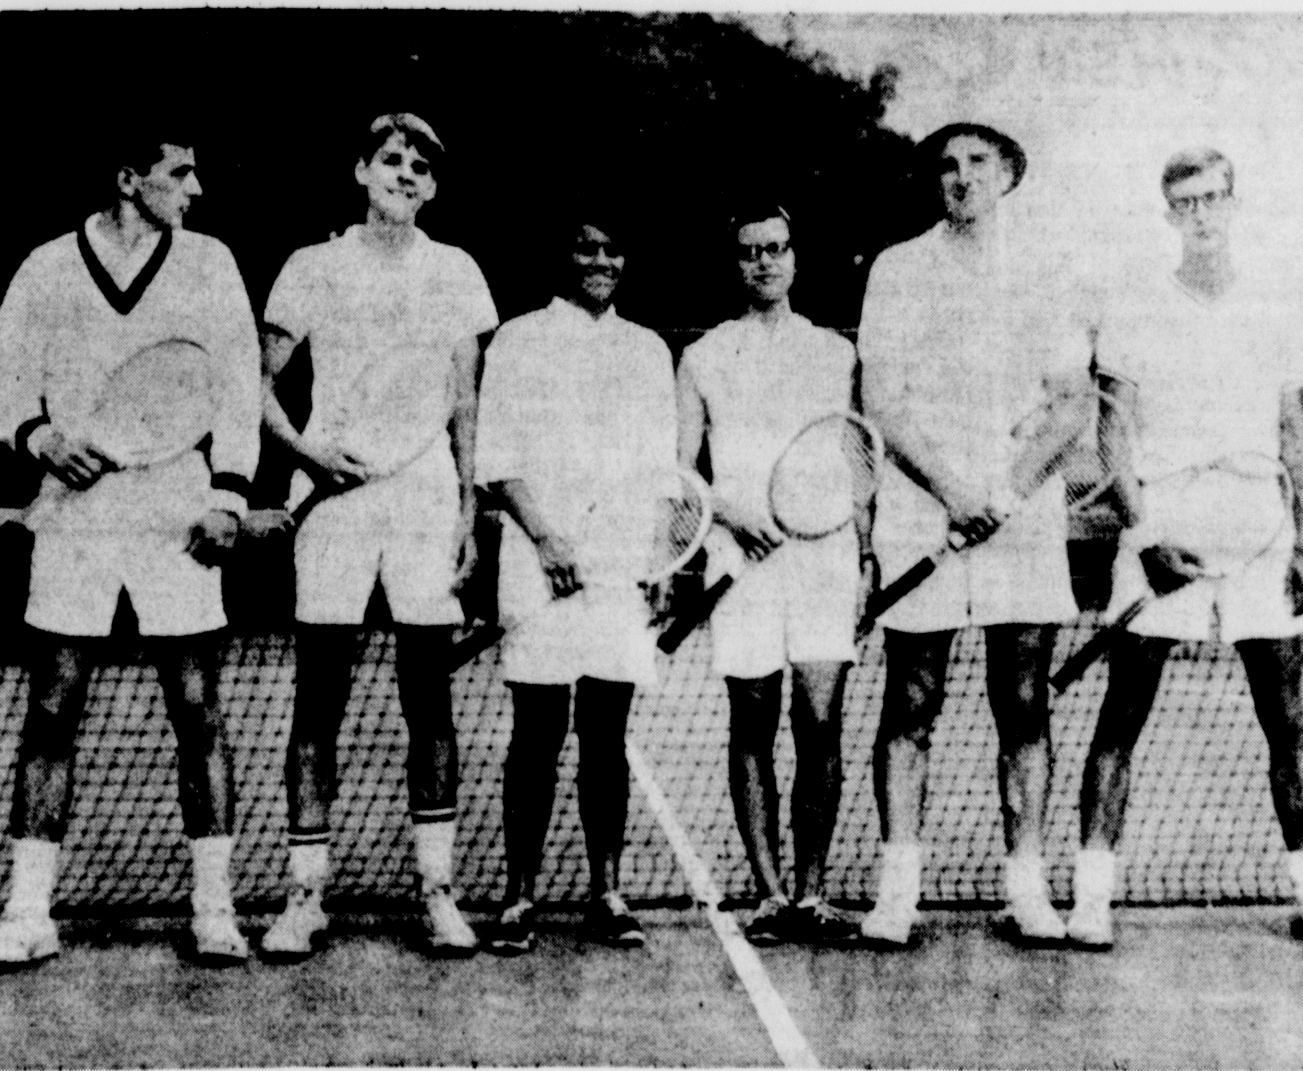

He finished a lap ahead of Billy Foster of Victoria, B.C., who also drove a rear-engine Ford. However, he was penalized three laps for passing two cars during a caution flag, dropping him to third place.

Foster's penalty boosted Gordon Johncock of Hastings, Mich., into second place. Johncock also drove a rear-engine Ford, which grabbed the first four places. Chuck Hulse of Indianapolis finished fourth.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gee Lee Hanover, owned by the Dixie Stables of New York City, posted the fastest mile of the year at Scioto Downs, 1:59 4-5, to win the $9,200 Challenge Stake for 4-year-old pacers Saturday night. Driven by Harold (Sonny) Dancer, the son of Adios took

Tennis Tourney Is Family Affair

THE FIRST THOMPSON Park tennis tournament turned out to be a family affair after the championships were held Sunday. The Manning family took the spotlight with (left-to-right) Pete and George Manning, a brother combination, as semi-finalists in the doubles while sisters Mary and Sue Rogers won the doubles championship and Doug Manning and Gregg Manning won the doubles title. Doug is the father of the three Manning boys. Greg also won the men's singles title. The next tournament will be July 23 and 24.

Cooke Sparks North Stars In Overtime Win

By HAL PARIS

Associated Press Sports Writer
MARION, Ohio (AP) — "He can do everything that has to be done."

With that capsule comment, Dayton Chaminade Coach Jim Turvene crisply summed up the eye-catching performance turned in by Toledo Libbey's Joe Cooke Saturday night as he sparked the North to a dramatic 96-97 overtime triumph over the South in the seventh annual Ohio All-Star cage classic.

The 6-foot-2 Toledoan's heroics was all the difference in the evenly-matched contest that saw the Yanks take a 4-3 lead in the series.

Cooke, bound for Indiana University, fired in 36 points, picked off 17 rebounds and was all over the floor. His twisting 20-foot jump shot only eight seconds from the end of regulation play forced an 85-85 deadlock and his two free throws to start the extra period put the North in the lead to stay.

Turvene, who co-coached the losers with Dixie's Columbus Hines, said "we got the maximum out of our kids but the North's second effort off the boards really hurt us."

Cooke stole the show but there were others who contributed their share. Jim Penix of Rossford, who dropped in 18 points, connected with a key basket only 11 seconds from the end of the overtime stanza to ice the verdict.

On the loser's side, Mike Pratt of Dayton Meadowdale and Jody Finney of Springfield South tallied 21 apiece while teammate Jerry Francis of Columbus West chipped in 18.

The Class AA and Class A Players of the Year, Dave Sorenson of Findlay and Kerry Myers of Celina ICHS, were unimpressive. Sorenson finished with 12 points and Myers with 6, as both played for the North.

The North led after every quarter, 21-14, 40-39 and 60-58 in the tight tussle that was tied 13 times.

The Rebs appeared to have the game won with a five point bulge and only 90 seconds to play. But that's when Cooke went to work, hitting the next three baskets to knot the issue.

His 36 points was a record output for an All-Star game eclipsing the 34 scored by Jim Carder of Delphos St. John in 1964.

An estimated 3,200 fans watched the action in the coliseum and directors of the game announced that next year's classic would be played here again.

Fryman Turns In Bucs' 577 Take Part In Fish Derby

By LEE LINDER

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The measure of a performance depends sometimes on which side you're on.

Take, for instance, 23-year-old Woodie Fryman, a rookie left-handed pitcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates who shut out the Philadelphia Phillies Sunday with three hits for a 2-0 win.

"He pitched a great game," said Pirate manager Harry (The Hat) Walker, who was thrown out in the third inning after a long argument with the umpires.

"He didn't impress me too much," said Phils manager Gene Mauch. "Really, the only thing that impressed me was the score."

Fryman, who left his tobacco farm in Kentucky last year to play baseball, said, "It was the best game of my career. My fast ball and overhand curve were really going in. And I had pretty good control."

"In fact," he added, without a semblance of modesty, "I always have pretty good control."

The statistics agree. He didn't walk a man in registering his fifth win in eight decisions, and struck out seven. In 68 innings this season he has walked only 10 men, while fanning 36.

Jesse Gonder, who caught Fryman for eight innings, said, "I've seen him faster, but against the Phils the ball was really moving."

Mauch said he can only fault his own batters "who should have tied into those pitches for a lot of runs."

Fryman is a native of Ewing, Ky., where his father and brother ran the family tobacco farm. He resisted Pirate offers for several years because he was making more money on the land than he could in the field.

But he didn't forsake baseball. For six years he pitched and played outfield — Sundays only — for the semi-pro Flemingsburg Aces of the Kentucky Blue Grass League.

Last year, "pushed by my father and brothers," he signed with Pittsburgh, pitched six games each for Batavia in the New York-Penn League and Columbus in the International, finishing with a combined 3-4 record.

Walker said Fryman "is very serious about his work and is dedicated now to baseball. You tell him what you want him to do, and he does it."

Fryman admits he likes the baseball life "but I miss the farm. I'll always miss that."

And what about Walker's battles with the umpires? It was the second day in a row that he was ejected from a Phil game — on Saturday night for protesting a play at first and Sunday for objecting to what he called "excessive movements" by Phil pitcher Larry Jackson on the mound.

"I'm going to battle all the way," said Walker. "We need every game, and every play counts."

For the Pirates every game is a struggle this season. We get a lot of hits but score only a few runs. Like this last game, 11 hits but only two runs."

The Pirates capitalized on two walks by loser Jackson, in the fourth and eighth, to score their two runs. Jose Pagan singled home Roberto Clemente in the fourth who had walked and gone to second on an infield out.

And in the eighth, after Willie Stargell walked, Don Clendenon slammed a triple into deep right for the final run.

"That's how we win," said Walker. "We got to fight and struggle."

Coach Figures U.S. Can Top Russian Track Team

By MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "We have a real good team — a team that can beat the Russians — but I hope no one gets over optimistic."

Stan Wright of Texas Southern, the first Negro coach to head a U.S. men's track and field team in major international competition, made the comment after the National AAU Outdoor Championships Saturday and Sunday at Downing Stadium.

The first two men in each event automatically made the team and others will be added to the squad today to strengthen it for the meets with Poland at Berkeley, Calif., July 16-17 and Russia at Los Angeles July 23-24.

Gerry Lindgren, the NCAA three-mile and six-mile champion, who was forced out of the weekend meet by acute bronchitis, and Tommie Smith, the injured sprint sensation from San Jose State, will be added to the squad.

Other distance runners also will be added so that Uncle Sam's team will be able to send in separate and fresh 5,000- and 10,000-meter running combinations against the Poles and Russians.

The emphasis will be on beating the Russians and avenging last year's stunning 118-112 point loss at Kiev, Russia. It was the first time in seven meetings the Soviet men had beaten the Yanks in a dual meet.

"The most important thing was getting a place on the team and a chance at the Russians," said 19-year-old Jim Ryun, the star of the meet with his 3.58.6 winning mile. "The meet with the Russians is the second most important meet. The Olympics comes first."

Ryun, who has just finished his freshman year at the University of Kansas unrecalled a spectacular 52.6 final quarter-mile after a slow 3:06 three-quarters, to provide New York with its first outdoor sub-four minute mile.

The 6-foot-2, 160-pound youngster spurted like a sprinter in the final 200 yards to whip veteran Olympian Dyrrol Burleson by eight yards with Jim Grelle, another Olympian, slightly behind.

Burleson was timed in four minutes flat and Grelle in 4:00.6.

Only three meet records were broken and three tied in the two-day championships but many of the races became tactical battles with the emphasis on finishing one-two instead of records.

The record breakers were Willie Davenport, Cleveland striders, 120-yard high hurdles, 13.3; Air Force Lt. Pat Traynor, 49er Track Club, Los Angeles, 3:00.0-meter steeplechase, 8:40.6, and Art Walker, Southern California Striders, 53.8.

The record-tyers were Bob Seagren, S.C. Striders, pole vault, 17-0; Otis Burrell, 49er T.C., Los Angeles, 7-2, and Lee Evans, San Jose, Calif., 440 and 45.8 in the semifinals. Evans, 19, won the final in 45.9.

Yesterday's Stars

By The Associated Press

PITCHING — Gaylord Perry, Giants, snapped Cincinnati's eight-game winning streak by hurling San Francisco to a two-hit, 10-0 victory while lifting his record to 10-1.

BATTING — Boog Powell, Orioles, collected three hits and drove in four runs as Baltimore crushed California 12-7.

Central, Lawyers Take Both Ends Of Twinbills

Central Service and the Lawyers won both ends of their doubleheader while the Realtors and Salem split in another Colt League twinbill Sunday.

Central scored a 13-11 victory over Riverview in the first game by scoring eight runs in the first two innings. Jim Musuraca gained the mound victory and came up with four hits including two doubles. Rex Campbell went three - for - five at the plate. Caruso was given the loss.

In the second game, Central behind the five - hit pitching of Finley scored a 9-2 decision. Arrington doubled twice and singled for a perfect day at the plate. Cunningham was the losing pitcher but his teammates committed eight errors.

Although outthit 14-12, the Lawyers defeated the Dentists, 17-10, in the first game at Columbiana.

Justifion, the leadoff batter, had four hits in five trips to pace the Lawyers and Davis was the winning pitcher. Kidder's three hits paced the Dentists with Lovejoy the losing hurler. Dwyart and Bell homered for the Lawyers.

The second game wound up in a 12-2 decision for the Lawyers who collected 12 hits. Morris had three hits and Echart connected for his second home run of the day. Brode was the winning pitcher and Howell the loser. Don Smith's triple and single led the Dentists at the plate.

The Realtors scored their first victory of the season in the first game at Salem Sunday. Coming up with four runs in the fifth inning, the Realtors edged Salem, 5-4.

Piatt was the winning pitcher and Palmer the loser with both pitchers giving up six hits.

Paul Brown proved the hero with a two run single in the fifth inning driving in the tying and winning runs. Joel Petkovich led the Realtors with three hits.

Salem bounced back to take the second contest, 8-2, with four runs in the fifth and sixth innings. Up until the fifth inning, Dan Myers had pitched no - hit ball and fanned seven batters.

Auto Body, Esquire Win In Slow Pitch

Esquire Barbers split a pair of Slow Pitch games over the weekend.

Auto Body scored a 10-5 victory over Esquire Saturday with Snow collecting four hits including two home runs. Manning was the losing pitcher with Clunk the winner.

Esquire handed the Little Diner a 13-3 setback with Lorin Howard collecting four hits while Rogers, Stovall and Manning had three hits each.

Diet And Exercise Saved Her Life

The homemaker in today's story was told, "Reduce or die." The essence of her story is this: "I'm living now instead of merely existing." Eighty pounds lighter, she signed herself "A Happy Dieter." Here is her story, in her own words.

"One year ago this Ida Jean Kain month I weighed 252 pounds and wore size 26½. Today, I weigh 172 pounds and wear size 18½. The doctor wants me to weigh not more than 150 pounds.

"Before my weight loss all I wanted to do was to sit and eat and sleep. Years ago doctors warned me to reduce and I went on and off diets. Then I landed in the hospital with high blood pressure, high blood sugar and a kidney infection. The doctor did not mince words. 'One day your family will come home and find you dead.' Believe me, Ida Jean, I was scared to pieces, and then there I made up my mind to live and to spare my family such a jolt.

"THE DOCTOR prescribed orinase for the diabetes and put me on 1200 calories a day and regular exercise. My diet included plenty of lean meat, vegetables and fresh fruit, two slices of bread and a pat of margarine. I had three meals a day and at bedtime a half glass of skim milk and two graham crackers.

"The first two weeks were terrible. I was hungry all the time. Now I do not want to overeat. I can sit with my coffee friends and enjoy them eating my baked goods.

"I exercise each day on my exercise bike for 30 minutes, walk, work in my yard and do my housework. I'm proud to go out. I look well in my clothes for the first time since 1946. I get all kinds of compliments from friends and neighbors. My family is proud of me, and my doctor is proud of me. And so am I!

"With my exercise I am not flabby. I weigh myself each night, but I don't set a time limit for I know I am going in the right direction. I am still losing slowly, a half to three-quarters pound a week. I am 47 years old. For two months now I have not had to take the orinase.

"I HAVE 22 more pounds to lose and, with God's help and my will power, I'll do it. Thank you for your encouragement too. I will report again so that other ladies will know it can be done and that it is worth it."

Exercise has been her life saver. She stopped overeating and started exercising, and she has worked a miracle. With the 80-pound burden of fat removed, she no longer requires the medicine.

The words, "I'm living again!" tell how triumphant she feels about her progress. We will be most interested in hearing the final report from this courageous woman.

If your family thinks creamed eggs are unexciting, try serving them over steamed rice with a topping of crisp chow mein noodles and a side accompaniment of pickled peaches. For the eggs, just add sliced hard-cooked eggs to medium cream sauce.

Son, 21, Charged With Slaying Dad

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A 21-year-old Pittsburgh man has been charged with murder in the shooting of his father. Police said they have been unable to determine a motive for the shooting.

Charged Sunday was Albert C. Bryan Jr., 21. Police said Albert C. Bryan, Sr., 55, of nearby McKees Rocks was shot several times at close range with a .22 caliber automatic pistol while reading the newspaper in the home of a friend in Pittsburgh's Garfield district. About 50 policemen armed with shotguns and wearing bulletproof vests later surrounded the home of the junior Bryan's sister in Crafton, but he surrendered without a struggle.

In some parts of the Arab world, a man is considered a weakling if he refuses to drink dirty water.

Officers Named For Legion Post

Election of officers featured the meeting of Midland American Legion Post 533 Thursday night at the post home.

Named were Leon Anderson, re-elected commander; Edmond Pack, first vice commander;

Nathan Jones, second vice commander; Willie Jones, adjutant; Samuel DeBerry, finance officer; Roosevelt Suggs, historian; M. C. Conwill, chaplain, and Arber Parham, sergeant-at-arms.

The membership to date is 63 and the quota for the 1965-66 term was exceeded. Anderson, Willie Jones and DeBerry will attend a district meeting Sunday at New Brighton. Suggs was welcomed back after an absence of three months because of illness.

The color guard, will march in the Midland Fourth of July parade.

The next meeting will be July 14.

Falk Hottest Failure In Town

Television is the one place where you can fail in spades, yet still be a big show business success. That's because a flop show on TV has more fans watching it each week than will go to a movie in six months or see a hit Broadway play in more than a year, and in Hollywood you are measured by the number of people who know and supposedly love you.

A fellow who realizes the truth of this axiom today is Peter Falk, a star this past season in one of the monumental bomb-outs of TV history—"Trials of O'Brien." Most of the critics gave it a high mark, but in the Nielsen rating race it was usually listed 104th among a total of 104 network series. Even a CBS special "How to Stop the Spread of Nuclear Weapons" racked up a bigger Nielsen score one week last March than Falk's "Trials of O'Brien."

AS SOON AS the word was out on O'Brien's early demise (the series wound up its CBS airing with the last rerun May 27), Falk found himself more popular than a millionaire surrounded by poor relatives. Before he could get back to Hollywood ("O'Brien" was filmed in New York), Falk side-stepped two offers for Broadway shows ("Maybe I should've taken one of them") and had barely unpacked when he was back in make-up at Universal Studios doing a Bob Hope "Chrysler Theater" comedy-drama with Janet Leigh for next fall.

Now he has moved over to MGM where he is doing a movie ("Penelope") with Natalie Wood. Before it's finished Falk tapes a TV version of "Brigadoon" with Robert Goulet for a special ABC telecast in the 1966-67 season. Red Skelton, Danny Kaye, Milton Berle and Roger Miller have all asked Falk to do guest appearances on their TV shows.

Besides this Hollywood reaction, Falk's fan mail continues to mount. He inadvertently tested this grassroots ground swell not long ago when an old school buddy, who was running for mayor of Fairfield, N. J., asked him to speak at a rally. "I didn't give it much thought one way or the other, and then I got there and was shocked to find thousands of people. Hell, a year ago I could have blown through that town like a soft breeze and nobody would've noticed," Falk comments.

SO IT'S NATURAL to ask why his TV series failed so spectacularly if he is all that bloody good, and of course Falk could open up the usual bag of reasons—wrong time slot, lack of promotion, too much network interference, shortage of good scripts.

"The trouble is that none of those things was true," says Falk. "I have no quarrel with CBS. It liked the first show and we were told, 'just keep on what you're doing.' We had no interference from anybody."

"I wanted the stories to be a little harder but my producer thought the comedy should be dominant. But in my heart I doubt either way would have made any difference in the final outcome. We had good reviews and it was an adult show. Maybe the fact we didn't try to appeal to the kiddies made the difference. Who knows?" Falk asks, shrugging.

"I do know one thing I can't get out of my mind. When our first show went on the air last Sept. 18, Jackie Gleason gave us a 37 per cent share of audience for a lead-in, and in the three minutes between his show and ours we lost 12 or 13 points. That means a lot of people never bothered to sample "Trials of O'Brien." Now there's a statistic, and we never were able to overcome it. But I had no illusions going into this series. The network has to have a success and make money. We weren't it."

"Trials of O'Brien" was switched in mid-season from its Saturday night spot to Fridays against the successful NBC "The Man from U.N.C.L.E." series. It still stayed at the bottom of the Nielsen rating list, but by then CBS had written it off anyway.

Falk is just going to have to be content with having the most successful flop in TV's annals.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Child's Intelligence Can Be Raised

Someone has defined intelligence as "the technique a child acquires for processing information furnished by his senses." It's pretty generally accepted by psychologists that a person's intelligence can be raised.

Indeed, with the usual measure of intelligence, a Dr. Garry Myers abundant evidence has been published that intelligence can be heightened. The younger the child the more can be done to raise his I.Q. This fact is recognized in the wide development of public education in culturally depressed areas, where preschool children are of first concern.

If you are the mother of an infant 2 months old or 1 year old or 4 or 5 there's hardly a limit to what you may do to stimulate the intelligence of this youngster. Of course, you need to consider that while you are stimulating him to respond more and more to what he gets through vision, hearing, touching and other senses he can be unduly excited. You need to consider his physical health and welfare.

YET, ALL else being equal, the more he responds to, the more intellectual exercise he is getting. The more the mother talks to the infant however young he is, and the more she fondles him, and the more she moves him about comfortably, and the more he can see, hear, touch, handle, explore, the more the infant learns.

But for his physical need to relax the more he is awake and the more he responds to, the more he learns. Presumably the infant learns most then from what is most satisfying to him. For cultivating useful habits in home and health routine, and for the convenience of his mother and others of the family, the times when he can have most stimulation need to be regulated, of course.

All your smiles and tender vocal sounds you make for the infant's amusement and satisfaction, all your holding and fondling him, carrying him about tenderly, enable him to grow in intelligence. As soon as he wants to touch, see and handle things, you enable him to get wider and richer experiences from such. When he begins to move about under his own steam, you afford him increasing opportunities to explore and get richer and richer experiences. You limit these experiences only for the sake of his safety.

Alert Clerk Caught

Typographical Error

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The Tampa City Council passed this ordinance:

"All appointments in the Police Department, except that of thief, shall be made under and in conformance with the civil service laws, rules and regulation.

A sharp-eyed clerk caught the typographical error, changed "thief" to "chief."

Auto Victim Dies

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (AP) — Dr. Herman Handler, 51, of Pittsburgh, Pa., has died in Middlesex General Hospital from injuries suffered in a traffic accident on the New Jersey Turnpike. Handler, who was injured in the accident Thursday, died Saturday. His 18-year-old son, Robert, his 13-year-old daughter, Janice, and his wife, Loraine, were hospitalized from the accident.

Scranton Backs Spending Limits For Vote Drives

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton is on record as favoring new election laws which would put a limit on money political candidates could spend during their campaigns.

"We should have, I guess, better laws in the State on this subject" but we don't and even the laws in the nation are not very good in this respect," Scranton commented Sunday on a television panel show (Conversations With The Governor.)

The governor's remark was in reply to a question about the $1.4 million primary campaign financial report turned in by Milton Shapp, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee.

Shapp upset the organization choice, State Sen. Robert P. Casey, in the May primary.

"When it gets to the point of where an individual is going to spend $1 1/2 million, of his own funds to be nominated, and heaven knows how much more to be elected, I think clearly we are getting out of kilter here..." Scranton said.

On Friday, Shapp said in Philadelphia that he was in favor of limiting the amount of money each party should spend for the Nov. 8 election.

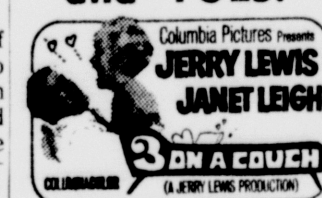

Lt. Gov. Raymond P. Shafer, the GOP gubernatorial nominee, replied, "I would be glad to have a limit."

If upstairs floors are carpeted with a thick pad underneath the carpet, it will help to eliminate the downstairs sound when someone is walking around.

Youths Smash Windows

Meeting Called To Stem Cleveland Race Violence

CLEVELAND (AP)—In an effort to stem racial violence that has erupted in Cleveland the past week, a city councilman called a meeting Sunday of municipal opinion leaders who have a following of about 30,000.

Democratic Councilman Craft C. Carter said Sunday that something must be done for Negro youths in the area or the situation could become explosive.

"These youngsters have broken an estimated $15,000 worth of plate glass windows in the past four days," he said. "Most of the damage was in my ward."

"I called the meeting because there has been no big exchange of ideas by the opinion leaders on the problems here in a long time," he said.

The latest result of the racial tension in the area on either side of Superior Avenue between East 79th Street and East Boulevard was a fire which gutted a grocery early Sunday morning, causing an estimated $45,000 damage.

The store, Gale's Super Valu Market, owned by Stanley Gale, 42, has been the target for looters and vandals since trouble started in the 11-block area Wednesday night.

The fire prevention bureau said gasoline was poured on a stairway of the building. A nearly empty five-gallon gasoline can was found beside the building, said 8th battalion Chief Hugh J. Fitzgerald.

Police Chief Richard R. Wagner cruised the area Sunday night and reported the area was generally quiet. About 150 policemen were in the area.

In calling a meeting of the opinion leaders, Carter, a Democratic councilman, said, "things may get worse unless there are job opportunities, athletic facilities and a way to communicate the wants and needs of these youths to the mayor and other city officials."

Carter said the idea was not to establish another committee, but to provide the necessary communication and offer solutions to problems.

Represented at the meeting were the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People; the Glenview Area Community Council; Community Action for Youth, and Religious Denominations.

Another meeting was scheduled for today.

Sings Only 5 Years

American Woman Earns Top Soviet Music Prize

MOSCOW (AP) — A 24-year-old California soprano who didn't discover music until five years ago is the first American winner of a top prize in the Tchaikovsky competition since Van Cliburn in 1958.

Jane Marsh of Mill Valley, daughter of a San Francisco obstetrician, was awarded first prize for women singers Sunday night. She won $2,750, a gold medal and valuable publicity.

Two American Negroes won lesser prizes. Veronica Tyler, 28, Baltimore, tied with a Bulgarian for second place in the women's division. Simon Estes, 28, New York, was second in the men's division. A Russian won the men's prize. One other American singer in the finals was Barbara Rondelli, 27, of Pittsburgh, Kan.

As a teen-ager, Miss Marsh said, "I didn't know I had a voice and neither did anybody else." At Mill Valley's Timpalpais High School she showed great promise as a swimmer and won the state title in the free-style crawl in 1957-59. Her coach wanted her to try for the Olympics, but she declined because she would have had to give swimming all her time.

She discovered music at 19, while majoring in psychology at Oberlin College, in Ohio.

"It was almost a one-day affair," she said. "I hadn't liked music. I was against it."

"But I had some friends who went to the conservatory, and I found I enjoyed going with them. I discovered I had a voice. That was it. I was hooked."

She went to New York and studied with two former Viennese, Lili Waxberg and Otto Guth.

A dramatic soprano, she made her operatic debut as Desdemona in Verdi's "Othello" at the Spoleto Festival last summer and her professional American debut at the Boston Symphony's opening concert last fall. She is to sing with the Boston Symphony again this summer at the Berkshire Festival at Tanglewood.

The Soviet news agency Tass hailed Miss Marsh as a "talented soprano."

Resident Of Midland Takes Teaching Post

A Midland resident who was graduated from Clarion State College in May has accepted a teaching position in the Chemistry Department at Freedom High School.

He is Robert Louis Dominici, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dominici of 403 Ohio Ave., Midland.

He received a bachelor of science degree in chemistry.

Crash Hurts Pilot

NEW HOPE, Pa. (AP)—First Lt. Walter Miles of White Horse Station, N.J., was injured when his Army National Guard observation plane, crashed into the Delaware River near New Hope. Authorities said Miles, on a routine training flight for the 102 Aviation Company of the New Jersey National Guard, suffered a possible fractured jaw and the loss of some teeth.

A 22.5-mile undersea railway tunnel will be started soon between the islands of Honshu and Hokkaido in northern Japan. It is expected to be the longest undersea tunnel in the world.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Monday, June 27, the 178th day of 1966. There are 187 days left in the year.
Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1942, FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover announced the arrest of eight trained German saboteurs who were said to have landed by submarine on New York's Long Island and in Florida.
On this date
In 1776, Thomas Hickey, a guard who plotted to capture George Washington and deliver him to the British was executed in New York. It was the first Army execution in U.S. history.
In 1847, the cities of Boston and New York were connected by telegraph.
In 1950, Lt. Col. James Little of Wyoming fired the first aerial shot of the Korean War and downed a Chinese Communist plane.

Ten years ago — President Dwight D. Eisenhower received a record $33 billion road-building bill providing what its sponsors called "the greatest governmental construction program in the history of the world."
Five years ago — The council on drugs of the American Medical Association endorsed the use of live polio vaccine developed by Dr. Albert Sabin, saying it offered longer protection than Salk vaccine.
One year ago — It was disclosed that Hollywood actor Steve Cochran had died of an acute lung infection aboard a schooner in the Pacific.

Junior Editors Quiz on SAND

QUESTION: How does the sand get on the seashores?

ANSWER: There are many small man-made beaches which have been made by hauling in sand by the truckload. But Jane, in our picture, is completely wrong in imagining that the enormous amount of sand on an ocean beach could have been brought in by trucks. It got there in another manner. It was brought by nature.

Most sand is made of loose particles of solid rock broken up and reduced to tiny pieces less than one twelfth of an inch across. After the solid rocks were originally formed, many forces attacked them, tending to break them up. Finally, the fierce ocean waves (top) broke off pieces of rock and rolled them around, grinding them smaller. Gradually much sand accumulated on the ocean floor, carried by currents. In times of storm, such sand was washed up by waves and deposited on the beaches. Fierce winds pushed and blew the sand further inland.

FOR YOU TO DO: When you get to an ocean beach, spill out 25 grains of sand in your cupped hand. They're easy to count. Then pick up a pinch of about the same size without counting. Now you have 50. Estimate how much you need for a thousand, then see if you can estimate the grains in a handful.

Kay Laneve of Wellsville, Ohio, wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Your remarks and the column you printed by Will Jones of Minneapolis was the most effective bit of writing against cigarette smoking I have ever read. It beats the surgeon general's report to pieces.

I'm a woman who has smoked at least two packs a day for over 18 years. When I was a teenager I sneaked cigarettes behind my parents' backs. I was never without gum or mints in my mouth when I arrived home from school. When my mother found a pack of cigarettes in my purse I said I was carrying them for a friend.

My husband has asked me to it was a symbol of my independence and I would not allow him to dominate me. My children have begged me to quit because they heard cigarettes can make people sick.

The day I read the description of how cigarette smokers look to nonsmokers I threw my cigarettes in the garbage can and swore off for life. I'm sure I never shall smoke another as long as I live. Thanks a million. — FREE AT LAST.

Dear Free: Thank you, but not all readers share your enthusiasm for my comments. Please read on.

Hooked On Weed

Ann Landers: I am not calling you "dear" because you are an idiot and a troublemaker. Why don't you go out and play in the traffic?

That column on cigarette smoking was an insult to millions of Americans. I, for one, demand an apology.

I'm an attractive, well-groomed, well-mannered woman of 45. My friends consider me immaculate. I'm neither ill-bred, ill-mannered, nor inconsiderate. My clothes do not stink and I resent being told that I stink up the world around me.

Men and women have been smoking for centuries and they are going to continue to smoke in spite of Ann Landers and that screwball in Minneapolis, the surgeon general, the family doctor and the handful of nuts who are trying to make it illegal.

Why? Because smoking is a source of relaxation and in this hectic world people need it to survive. — NICOTINE ADDICT WHO ENJOYS EVERY PUFF.

Dear Addict: I hope you are one who will survive. Some haven't — and the list is getting longer all the time.

Smoker's World

Dear Ann: Will Jones is right. It is a smoker's world. And it's going to continue to be a smoker's world. So why doesn't he get out of it? — SOUTH BENDER.

Dear Ann: You and that gink in Minneapolis are both nuts. Can you imagine phoning friends to invite them to a party in your home and asking them if they smoke? And if they say "Yes" — telling them to stay home? It's insane. — MADISON MRS.

Dear Ann: Why don't you and Jones go live in Russia? You'd make great dictators. — NEW HAVEN, Conn.

Cock Fight Raid Nets 49 Arrests By Police

WARREN, Pa. (AP)— State police say a cock fight in a remote section of Warren County near here has resulted in the arrest of 49 persons from three states.

Six persons from southwestern New York State and Eastern Ohio were fined $10 apiece by Justice of the Peace Ray F. Gilmore of North Warren following the raid Saturday night. A hearing for the Pennsylvania residents is scheduled for Tuesday.

Police said the raid took place

Dear Ann: I resent the remarks by that loon in Minneapolis. So he hates women smokers, does he? He sounds like a maniac who must be on something stronger than cigarettes.

We must all overlook faults in other people. If Will Jones so despises women smokers that he would tear a cigarette from a woman's mouth then why does he take her out? I'd like to hear his answer to this question. — PEACE PIPE.

Dear Pipe: So would I. How about it, Will, baby? If you'll write it, I'll print it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ohio Counts 14 Drownings On Weekend

By The Associated Press
Sunday was a hot, humid day generally throughout Ohio and thousands of persons flocked to beaches, parks, lakes and pools to seek relief. For some, a day of frolic ended in tragedy.

At least 14 persons lost their lives by drowning over the weekend, the heaviest toll thus far of the early summer season.

Among the victims were two sets of brothers in Jackson and Ross counties.

The deaths: Gerald M. Johnson, Niles, at Spring Lake Park in Bristolville, Trumbull County.

Gary DuVall, 17, of Oregon, Ohio, after going swimming at the Rockland Lake Quarry at Stony Ridge, Wood County.

Ricky Lunsford, 12, and his brother, Lora, 11, Rt. 4, Chillicothe, while fishing in Salt Creek near Londonderry east of Chillicothe.

Bill Buchanan, 32, Cleveland, after diving off a 14-foot outboard boat near the 9th Street pier in Lake Erie.

Aaron T. Keeton, 45, Cleveland when he fell from where he had been fishing at Perkins Beach.

Daryl Cox, 18, Middletown, while on a fishing trip with two friends in the Little Miami River.

Barry Reese, 12, Cleveland, while on a family outing at Midway Lake near Orwell, Ash-tabula County.

Paul R. Thompson, 17, of near Marion, in an abandoned shale pit east of Marion.

William R. Hensley, about 45, of Rt. 1, Gahanna, when he fell from a boat at Buckeye Lake.

Billy G. Stacy, 24, Dayton, during a swimming party in the Little Miami River near Lebanon.

Francis Frank VanMeter, 45, Racine, Meigs County, who had been swimming in a farm pond near Racine when he went under.

He Tore His Shirt To Deliver Clothes

ROBINSON, Ill. — Clothier J. Clyde Kimmel, who says that in 29 years he has never failed to deliver rental clothes as promised, has been hard pressed on two occasions recently to keep that record intact.

He found it necessary to drive to Mattoon a few weeks ago to retrieve two dinner jackets that were about to miss the wedding they had been ordered for.

And since then, after spending $30 on long-distance calls, Kimmel discovered that 16 of the men's jackets ordered for prom night had been mislaid to Elwood, Ind.

Leaving Robinson as soon as he finished telephoning on Thursday — at 5:45 p. m., Kim- for 16 young men with dates mel and his wife drove the 160 miles to Elwood, got the rentals and were back home by 2 a. m. Friday. He saved his record — and saved the day.
